

An Interview With Hanoi's Top Negotiator

PARIS (UPI)—Xuan Thuy sat in a crimson easy chair sipping fragrant green Tonkinese tea and with a smile called the United States a liar.

Thuy, chief negotiator for the North Vietnamese at the Paris talks, went on to warn that there would not be any expanded peace talks unless the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front (NLF) is recognized as an independent equal partner.

Thuy granted an interview Monday at his residence in Choisy-le-Roi, a suburb south of Paris, primarily to counter a U.S. statement made last week about the agreement on expanded peace talks.

The U.S. statement was issued by the State Department and said a Hanoi-Washington agreement on the expanded talks called merely for a "your side-our side" arrangement.

Sitting beneath a large portrait of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh and surrounded by vases of flowers and etchings of the Tonkinese, Cochinese and Annamite landscapes, Thuy said:

"Never have we agreed on a two party conference, as recently declared by a number of Americans."

Thuy said there could be four-way talks, with the Saigon regime representatives taking part, or three-way talks without them. But never two-way talks.

"In order to find a peaceful solution to the Vietnam problem, we are prepared to hold a four-party conference as agreed upon with the representatives of the U.S. government," Thuy said.

"We have also suggested that in case the representatives of the Saigon administration have not come to Paris, a three-party conference can be held, including the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam, the South Vietnam National Front for Liberation and the United States," he added.

"If neither a four-party nor a three-party conference can take place, the responsibility rests entirely upon the U.S. side," Thuy said.

Touching on other matters, such as the reunification of Vietnam, he took pains to appear moderate and flexible.

Thuy, who once described Richard M. Nixon as a "bellicose man" took care not to criticize the U.S. President-elect.

However, he said Hanoi will not soften its demands in any way for Nixon. Other well-informed diplomatic sources said Hanoi was satisfied that Nixon had endorsed the basic Vietnamese policy decisions of President Johnson.

Thuy indicated Hanoi may be flexible on such questions as the reunification of Vietnam. He said, "The question of reunification (should be) on a democratic basis and through a step-by-step process."

"Pending the reunification, the population of both North and South Vietnam will develop economic and cultural relations between the two zones and will be free to exchange correspondence and visits and so forth," he said.

However, Thuy remained noncommittal when asked whether a united Vietnam would be politically neutral as the NLF has advocated for South Vietnam.

"After the reunification of the country, the entire Vietnamese people will decide themselves the political system they will follow," he said.

At the conclusion of the interview, Thuy left behind a sheet of paper he had been holding throughout the interview. On it was a poem he had recently composed. It dealt with the U.S. bombing halt.

"Clap you hands happily, brothers and sisters.

"And let the smiles blossom as flowers.

"The North has gone through smoke and fire.

"To see the Yankee now concede his defeat..."

Red Push Underway For North Provinces

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have killed 181 more Viet Cong and North Vietnamese and taken more than 200 prisoners or suspects in two operations 450 miles apart, military spokesmen reported today.

One battleground was south of Da Nang, where the Vietnamese area commander says the Communist command has started its winter offensive for South Viet-nam's northern provinces. The other was 115 miles southwest of Saigon, where a big South Vietnamese force is trying to make a dent in a Viet Cong stronghold near the Cambodian border. South Vietnamese headquarters also reported three provincial capitals and six district towns shelled by the enemy during the night and two terrorist incidents. A spokesman said these attacks killed 29 civilians and 12 Vietnamese soldiers and wounded 72 civilians and one soldier.

On the political front, the Saigon government appeared moving slowly toward a decision to send a delegation to the Paris peace talks. Some sources close to the government indicated President Nguyen Van Thieu has decided he has to end his boycott of the talks. These sources said there is a 50-50 chance Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky will lead the delegation. In the air war, the U.S. Air Force lost its sixth B52 bomber of the war when one of the big eight-jet Stratofortresses crashed and burned as it was taking off from Okinawa for a raid. All seven crewmen escaped from the burning plane, but two were injured seriously. Twenty miles south of Da Nang, U.S. Marine scouts spotted groups of 80 and 75 khaki-uniformed soldiers on the move and called in Marine artillery. The U.S. Command said the barrages killed 48 of the enemy and set off eight secondary explosions, indicating ammunition was hit. Five miles closer to Da Nang,

South Vietnamese infantrymen sweeping the area where they fought all day Sunday around the town of Dien Ban found another 103 North Vietnamese bodies, a spokesman said.

He said this raised to 305 the number of North Vietnamese troops killed by South Vietnamese infantrymen and American aircraft and artillery in the fighting Sunday and early Monday.

In the same general area, a U.S. Marine and Vietnamese civil action team fought off a small attack and killed five more North Vietnamese. Seven Marines were wounded; South Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

Five more U.S. Marines were killed and six wounded in an ambush Monday night just below the demilitarized zone, between the Marine bases at Dong Ha and Cam Lo.

According to United Press International the semiofficial Vietnam press today quoted by saying intelligence reports pointed to increased Communist recruiting among Vietnamese men and women, young and old, as part of a "winter-spring plan."

Huong, in coastal Vung Tau, said the guerrillas were forcing South Vietnamese property owners to give up half of their holdings as "loans" to help the Communists continue the war.

The prime minister cited other intelligence reports in claiming the guerrillas had forced each village across South Vietnam to offer 10 children for political training in North Vietnam.

Lucky Hunter Bags 10-Pointer

Joseph Deciano of Sawkill proudly displays trophy buck bagged on the first day of the big game season. Monday's happy hunting ground for Deciano was Wintergreen Hill area in Sawkill. The 10-point deer is reported to weigh in at more than 200 pounds. First day kill in the area was reported light but hunters have until Dec. 3 to down their buck. State Conservation predictions are for a record season this year. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Matches Save Life Of County Trucker

BY LYNN MULVANEY

If county-employed truck driver Donald T. White hadn't leaned back to get some matches while he was driving along Cottekill Road about one-half mile east of Ulster Community College, yesterday morning, he would have been dead from a high-powered bullet that grazed the front of his jacket.

The 49-year-old Malden-on-Hudson man, traveling east about 8:20 a.m., suffered superficial cuts to the left side of his face when the bullet came crashing through the left side of the window, across his chest and out the right window. The flying glass also inflicted cuts to his right hand.

State Police, who investigated the accident, theorize that the bullet was a stray one from a hunter's gun.

White was treated by Dr. Anthony Tocco of Stone Ridge. Reflecting on the near tragedy, a much-relieved White counted his blessings saying, "I'm glad I went to church last Sunday. I'm going three times this Sunday."

BCI Investigator Charles Teelon and Trooper J. A. Fitzgerald investigated. A report of another near-miss was also given by State Police this morning who told of some wild shooting up at Big Indian.

Trooper Craig Bremer reported an incident in which a bullet hole was found in a tent set up in that area by a Long Island man.

William Martin of Jamesport, the tent's owner, was fortunately not in the tent at the time. In what was at first believed to have been a hunting mishap, a Quarryville man was discovered dead in the woods last night by a search party.

Alva A. Helm Sr., 58, reportedly went hunting yesterday. When he did not return by 5 p. m., his sons, Alva Helm Jr. and Leroy Helm went looking for him. A search party from the Centerville Fire Department was also organized.

Helm was found at 8:45 p. m., three-quarters of a mile north on Old Route 32 in Quarryville.

A verdict of death due to natural causes was issued by Ulster County Coroner Henry S. Hartley.

Among those who assisted in the search were Saugerties Constable Charles P. Riley, Herbert Hummel and Investigator Richard Ryan of the New York State Police.

Ellenville Board Names Its New Village Manager

By CHARLES BERMPOHL

ELLENVILLE—This village has a new manager.

Mayor Eugene Glusker announced the appointment last night of Paul H. Boucher, 37, who is leaving his post as town manager of Saugus, Mass., to assume the $12,000 a year position.

The Ellenville board also unanimously approved the appointment of William A. Hegeman to the newly-created post of Village Constable.

Hegeman, a village police officer, will be used primarily, to serve civil summonses and eviction notices.

The new village manager, who received his BA degree in public administration and his Masters degree in government finance and economics, both from Northwestern University, is a former Juneau, Alaska city manager and a special assistant to the Governor of Alaska.

As assistant to the Alaskan Governor, from 1960-1965, he helped provide assistance to local communities, including assistance in fiscal problems, incorporation and organizational problems, legal matters, engineering, purchasing, and planning.

From 1955 to 1957 he was a special assistant to the Mayor of Chicago and was responsible for advising the mayor on economic and local governmental problems facing the city.

He was involved in restructuring and modifying the governmental structure of the city and acted as a liaison officer between the mayor and his department heads.

As the town manager of Saugus, Mass., with a 25,000 population, he was the first manager in 20 years to reduce the tax rate without curtailment of services.

He worked with a $6,500,000 budget and with 300 full-time town employees under his direction.

A native of Rock Springs, Wyoming, he is married and is the father of two daughters.

Reduced Unemployment

As the 1958-1960 city manager of Juneau, the capital of Alaska, with a population at the time of about 16,000, Boucher instituted the first city-wide street lighting program and created a municipal industrial commission, the first in the state, which was successful in bringing two industries into the area, thereby reducing local unemployment by 65 per cent.

While manager he worked with a $2,500,000 budget with 116 employees under his direction.

Boucher created the first municipal monetary surplus in the city's history and a tax reduction for the community the following year.

The new Ellenville manager, who will serve at the pleasure of the board, is presently working towards his Ph.D. in public administration.

Village board members who were required to serve as commissioners overseeing various municipal departments, upon the resignation of former manager John Geist, will now relinquish these duties to the new appointee.

Model Cities Author

Mayor Glusker said that Boucher was "a man of great stature," and was the author of a model cities plan for the City of Buffalo.

In other board action, Mayor Glusker announced that the joint meeting on the village flood control project will be on Nov. 21 at 8 p. m. in the village hall.

Representatives from the Town of Wawarsing, the Ulster County Legislature, the New York State Conservation Department, and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, along with the village, will meet primarily to discuss the feasibility of lining up all construction under one contract in the $2,500,000 project.

It was also announced that village patrolman Roy Strouse had been awarded a special academic achievement plaque from the Rockland County Policemen's Benevolent Association for his performance at the N. Y. State Municipal Training School from Sept. 23 to Nov. 8.

Landmark Bites the Dust for UR Plan

Demolition of the old Montgomery Ward building on North Front Street gets to the knock down stage as up-town pedestrians play sidewalk superintendents. The operation is part of Kingston Urban Renewal. The Com-

U.S. Position on Arms Due Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States is expected to sidestep mounting appeals in the United Nations for immediate talks between Washington and Moscow on limiting nuclear missile systems.

U.S. disarmament negotiator William Foster is scheduled to spell out the U.S. position on the arms question today in the General Assembly's main political committee. But U.S. informants predicted he would say little, if anything about big power arms negotiations.

The sources said there has been no change in the U.S. stand that the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and the new Russian policy for Eastern Europe had dealt a severe setback to any U.S.-Soviet detente.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said recently that the administration is deeply concerned over the "new Soviet doctrine" by which Moscow made itself arbiter of the actions of East European countries.

Rusk told newsmen that Soviet policy has damaged "a good many efforts that were being made to resolve particular problems in the general field of East-West relations."

U.S. sources said it was not known here whether the State Department has discussed the idea of U.S.-Soviet arms talks with representatives of President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

There has been continuing contact between the present administration and Nixon's representatives, and it is known the government's stand on the overall arms issue has received bipartisan support.

$16.7 Million Total

Hearing on County Budget Tonight

By LYNN MULVANEY

Ulster County's proposed $16.7 million budget for 1969 will be aired at a public hearing tonight at 7:30 in the fifth floor meeting room of the County Legislature in the County Office Building.

Although the appropriation tops last year's by $422,454, the amount to be raised by taxes is decreased by about $37,742, according to Edward W. Snyder, budget officer and clerk of the board. Total estimated revenues will decrease the amount of taxation in spite of the fact that the new budget calls for additional services, mandatory salary increases and fringe benefits for county employees.

Several factors contribute to the decrease, according to County Legislative Chairman Peter J. Savago:

There is an increase of $1.35 million in the county's total assessed valuation which excludes the revaluation of properties in the Town of Plattekill. More than $150,000 is expected to be raised as a result. The current year's total assessed valuation of property in Ulster County is $100,123,532. The total assessed valuation for 1969 will be $11,959,246, which includes the assessed valuation of all Plattekill property. The equalization rate for that township last year was six per cent. This year it will be 60 per cent.

Fund balances from various departments show a large increase and will total more than $350,000 to be listed under anticipated revenues.

A decrease in appropriation was also realized when cuts were made in various department budgets by the legislative budget committee in the amount of $415,849.72.

The total of original requests would have brought the county budget up $19,115,041. By paring items deemed unnecessary and effecting other economies, the committee was able to cut this figure down to $18,699,191.29. With inter-fund revenues deducted from this figure, the total appropriations was brought down to $16,744,301.

Estimated revenues excluding inter-fund revenues totals $8,766,829. This added to the fund balances in various departments brought the estimated revenue figure to $9,126,829.

A limited number of copies of the preliminary budget are now available at the office of the Clerk of the County Legislature in the County Office Building.

Most of the commercially marketed codfish is in the form of frozen fillets and fish sticks. But the eggs are ground as bait for sardines; cod liver oil is extracted from the liver, and the air bladder is used in making ising glass.

Martorana Opposes the County Sales Tax

Opposition to the proposed three per cent county sales tax and a suggested repeal of the present two per cent city sales tax came today from Joseph Martorana (R), Ulster County legislator.

"A three per cent sales tax imposed on the same people who pay real estate taxes... would certainly not be a relief to these people, it would merely be a horse of a different color, another tax which the property owner might be shackled with long after it had served its original purpose."

The Plattekill legislator, who also represents Lloyd, Marlboro and Shawangunk, said the main reason he opposes the adoption of a new tax at this time is because the businessmen, the homeowners and the consumers of the town he represents, as well as elected town officials are opposed to it.

"Adding a new total of five per cent sales tax to purchases may very well drive customers out of Ulster County and businessmen out of business."

"In addition," he said, "a sales tax not earmarked for specifically approved projects could very well end up to be a camouflage to hide the operation and the costs of government and to encourage spending."

Martorana said strongest opposition to the tax comes from businessmen whose towns border Orange County or whose residents are employed in Dutchess or Orange County. "Two sales-tax-free counties."

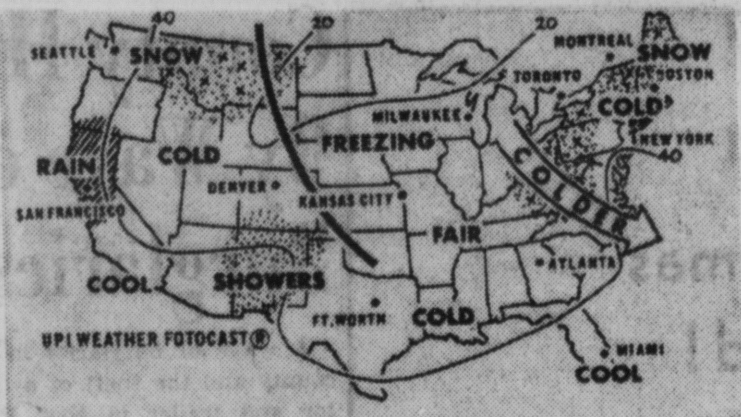

Commenting on recent press releases "alleging that a county wide sales tax would reduce real estate taxes," Martorana noted, "If public officials truly want to reduce real estate taxes then they should apply the proceeds from the proposed sales tax as a revenue item in the 1969 county budget to offset appropriations."

"If this were done then the amount to be raised by taxes would be justly reduced. However, if the proceeds are not to be used as a revenue item in the budget, then the public should not be told that real estate taxes are being reduced."

Martorana suggested that if the proceeds are to be used for other-than-budgetary purposes "as it appears, this is the intention now," then the sales tax should not be proposed and adopted until such other-than-budgetary programs have been approved.

Telling of his previously proposed capital program plan, which now lays in committee, Martorana said, "If the sales tax is adopted now, the anticipated revenues will not have been included in the county budget and will not have been one."

Motorola Awarded Radio System Bid

SAUGERTIES — Bidding for a radio system for village Department of Public Works and Water Department trucks ended at last night's meeting of the Village Board with the acceptance of a $2,099 bid from Motorola Communication and Equipment.

Motorola will install a base station in the Village Clerk's office and will supply two-way radio equipment for the village's trucks.

The firm was the only bidder on the project.

Two sealed bids for new trucks were returned unopened by the board when it was noted that no individual had obtained specifications from the Village Clerk.

A special meeting will be held after bids are resubmitted, the clerk said.

Howard Martin was named as a new member of the C. A. Lynch Fire Company during the meeting.

A petition bearing 140 signatures was presented asking the board to investigate the unused buildings in the village area with the hope of having the structures removed. The board noted that the County owned many of the properties and stated that it would contact County legislators from the Saugerties area to investigate the matter.

The board expressed hope that the county would give the buildings to the village for removal.

Patrolman Charles Winters completed his six-week training for the police department and was placed on the active list. He attended the police school in White Plains.

Parking meters in the village will be sealed for the holiday period from Nov. 26 to Jan. 1, it was announced.

A lengthy discussion was held on the placement of holiday decorations in the village. It was felt that the Chamber of Commerce might not be able to afford the cost of the decorations and the village might have to pay.

The Public Works Department, it was said, plans to erect a Christmas tree, complete with lights, someplace in the center of the village.

Red Hook Man Heads State Farm Bureau

Robert Greig, a Red Hook fruit and dairy farmer, was elected president of the New York Farm Bureau at the 1968 annual meeting in Syracuse.

Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker of Wallkill represented Ulster, Dutchess and Sullivan Counties at the parley.

Greig has been vice-president of the New York Farm Bureau since 1961 and prior to that served as president of the Dutchess County Farm Bureau. The Red Hook man also was a member of the state board of directors.

A graduate of Cornell University College of Agriculture, Greig is well-known in state agri-business groups. He has served on the governors' migrant labor committee and the state soil conservation committee.

More than 600 persons representing 32 county farm bureaus in New York attended the three day session.

Migrant workers housing and farm originated air and water pollution were discussed.

Delegates also enacted resolutions calling for a state farm worker minimum wage no higher than the federal minimum; farm representation on the Workman's Compensation Board; assessment of farm land at its agricultural value; continued control of schools by local school boards and control of welfare programs by local welfare boards.

County Hit By Wave of Burglaries

A wave of burglaries in the county and the theft of a tractor and trailer in New Paltz have kept State Police busy during the past 48 hours.

The theft of the trailer, loaded with assorted freight valued at about $7,000 was reported to have taken place outside the toll booths at the New York State Thruway at New Paltz.

The tractor, a white, 1967 model, used to pull trailers, was reported stolen from Gorias Motor Express Terminal on the South Ohioville Road, New Paltz. It is valued at $15,000.

Both vehicles were reported to have been taken between 8 a. m. Saturday and 7 a. m. Monday.

The FBI, Senior BCI investigator Charles Teelon and the State Police are investigating.

A burglary of a liquor store in New Paltz was discovered Monday when New Paltz police found Dennis Greg Martin, 19, of New Paltz asleep inside the store. Police report that Martin, after having gained entry, imbibed in some of the stores products and fell asleep.

He was arrested and charged with third degree burglary and appeared before Town Justice Rexford Snyder. He entered a plea to a lesser charge of criminal trespassing and was sentenced to 90 days in Ulster County Jail. BCI investigator Richard Ryan investigated.

Whiteport Caves in Rosendale were also reported entered over the weekend.

The caves, owned by Iron Mountain Inc., just off Rt. 32, were broken into when a front door was torn from its casing.

State Police report that the property loss is still being established.

The burglary reportedly occurred between 4 p. m. Saturday and 9:30 a. m. Monday.

The Highway Laundromat at Shop-Rite Square was also the target of burglars this weekend who apparently did not get all that was hoped for.

Entry was gained through a rear door, according to State Police who said a pry bar was used.

An attempt to break into a soda machine proved unsuccessful but change was reported stolen from candy and cigarette machines.

Excessive damage was reported both to them and to two washing machines which were also pruned open.

Charles Staccio of Kingston, the owner of the laundromat reports that the washing machines do not use coins now and tags are employed instead.

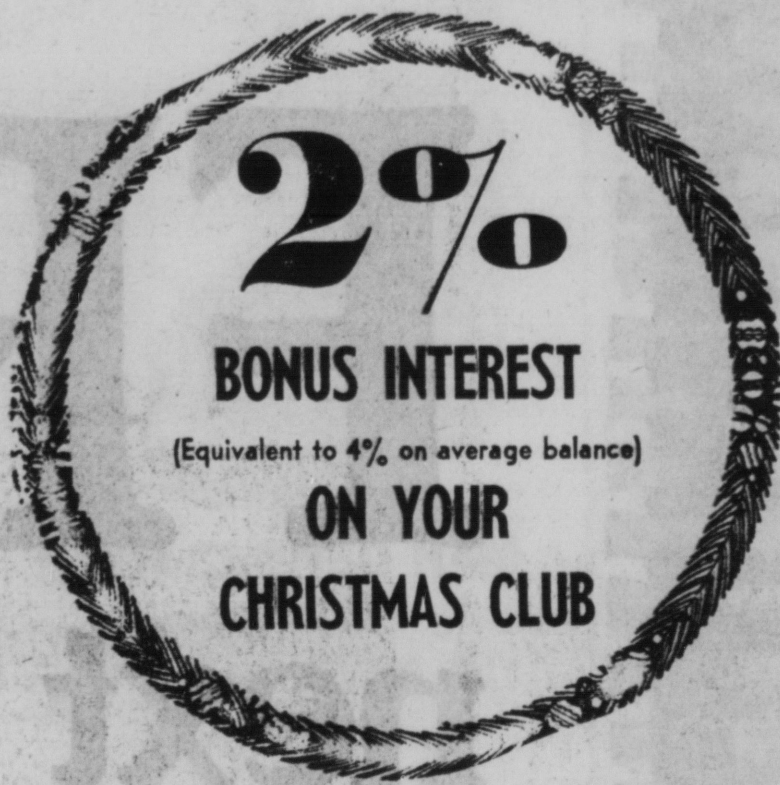

State Police at Lake Katrine barracks investigated.

Saugerties Man Injured, Cited

Ulvert Moore, 22, of Saugerties, was taken to Kingston Hospital with lacerations of the eye and contusions of the ankle late yesterday afternoon following an accident on the Thruway.

State police report that Moore was driving a 1966 Volkswagen which went out of control near milepost 81.

He was arrested for driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent. Trooper Joseph Stinton investigated.

Albany Crash Takes 2 Lives

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Two men were killed and four persons injured Monday night when a private, twin-engine airplane plunged into the Mohawk river while making a landing approach to nearby Albany County Airport.

Police said the victims were Frank Emil Lowenstein, 48, a native of Georgia who made his home in San Juan Teotihuacan, Mexico, and Edgar Sloan, 29, of New York City.

Lowenstein, identified through his passport, was killed in the crash. Sloan died a few hours later in Albany Medical Center Hospital.

Police said the plane, which had left Quebec during the afternoon, was attempting an instrument landing through heavy rain and fog. The craft fell into the river about a mile from the airport.

Two residents of the area heard cries from the river and summoned police, thinking that duck hunters were stranded on one of the islands.

Rescue personnel in boats found the plane in a shallow section of the river. Three persons had climbed atop the plane's cabin, which had sunk partially under the surface of the water.

The injured were taken first to an abandoned railroad station nearby and transferred to Albany Medical Center Hospital. They were: James Borstman, 37, of Farmingdale, the pilot; Dermot Demot Byrne, 39, of Black Rock, Ireland, and William R. Martin, 28, and Miss Astrid Schrammel, 27, both of New York City.

Police cut open the fuselage to retrieve Lowenstein's body. A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Agency Control Center in Nashua, N.H., said the plane was listed on records as being owned by an H. C. Sloane of New York City. The craft was a Beech Queenair BE 55 and equipped as an eight-seater.

The cause of the crash was

Sick People Are the Pawns: Rocky on Strike at Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — About half the patients at Creedmoor State Mental Hospital in Queens have been transferred or sent home because of a strike by hospital employees.

Other hospitals targeted for strikes by the end of the week, including Bronx State Hospital and Manhattan State Hospital, were being partially evacuated today.

One report said the walkout might spread to Rockland State Hospital at Orangeburg.

The Creedmoor strike began Monday. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller denounced it as a "union power play" that made sick people "the pawns."

The strike was called by Council 50 of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees to protest Rockefeller's decision to negotiate wages and working conditions with a rival union, the Civil Service Employees Association.

Council 50 wants to be recognized as the sole bargaining agent for non-professional workers at all of the state's 24 mental hospitals and 12 schools for the mentally retarded.

A year ago, Rockefeller recognized the other union, the CSEA, as sole bargaining agent for state workers.

Council 50 says the governor promised that his recognition of the CSEA would last only for a year, and that state employees would then have the right to choose their own bargaining agent.

Rockefeller pointed out Monday that the Public Employment Relations Board is now considering the question. He sent a telegram to officials of Council 50 urging them to direct their members to return to work and to await the "forthcoming decision" of the PERB.

"Your illegal jurisdictional strike against Creedmoor State Hospital endangers the lives and well-being of thousands of defenseless patients," the telegram said.

The governor also told officials of the union, which has 1,500 members at Creedmoor, that if they made good their threat to extend the strike to Bronx Hospital and Manhattan State Hospital, the result could be death for hundreds of aged, infirm and bedridden patients.

Rockefeller said that if it became necessary, he would use the full power of the state's Taylor Law, which bans strikes by public employees, to end the walkout.

Pickets, mostly women and numbering 150 at times, marched in the rain Monday outside the gates of the hospital, which normally houses 6,300 patients. At least two persons were arrested—a woman for throwing a rock and a man for resisting arrest and engaging in disorderly conduct.

The Queens Aftercare Clinic announced that it would remain open 24 hours a day to help the 2,000 Creedmoor patients who had been sent home. Dr. Alan D. Miller, state commissioner of mental hygiene, said professional workers would also visit patients in their homes.

Miller said after touring Creedmoor that the remaining patients were "faring remarkably well." He said the strike had had "substantial impact, but it's not devastating."

"Creedmoor can cope with the foreseeable future," he said.

Jackie Back in U.S., Ari Remains in London

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis has returned to the United States for the first time since her wedding a month ago.

Smiling but uncommunicative, the modishly dressed former first lady arrived Monday by plane from London, where her husband, Aristotle Onassis, stayed behind for the time being tending to business affairs.

Friday is the fifth anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and next Monday the late President's son and namesake will be 8 years old. Caroline Kennedy's 11th birthday is two days later.

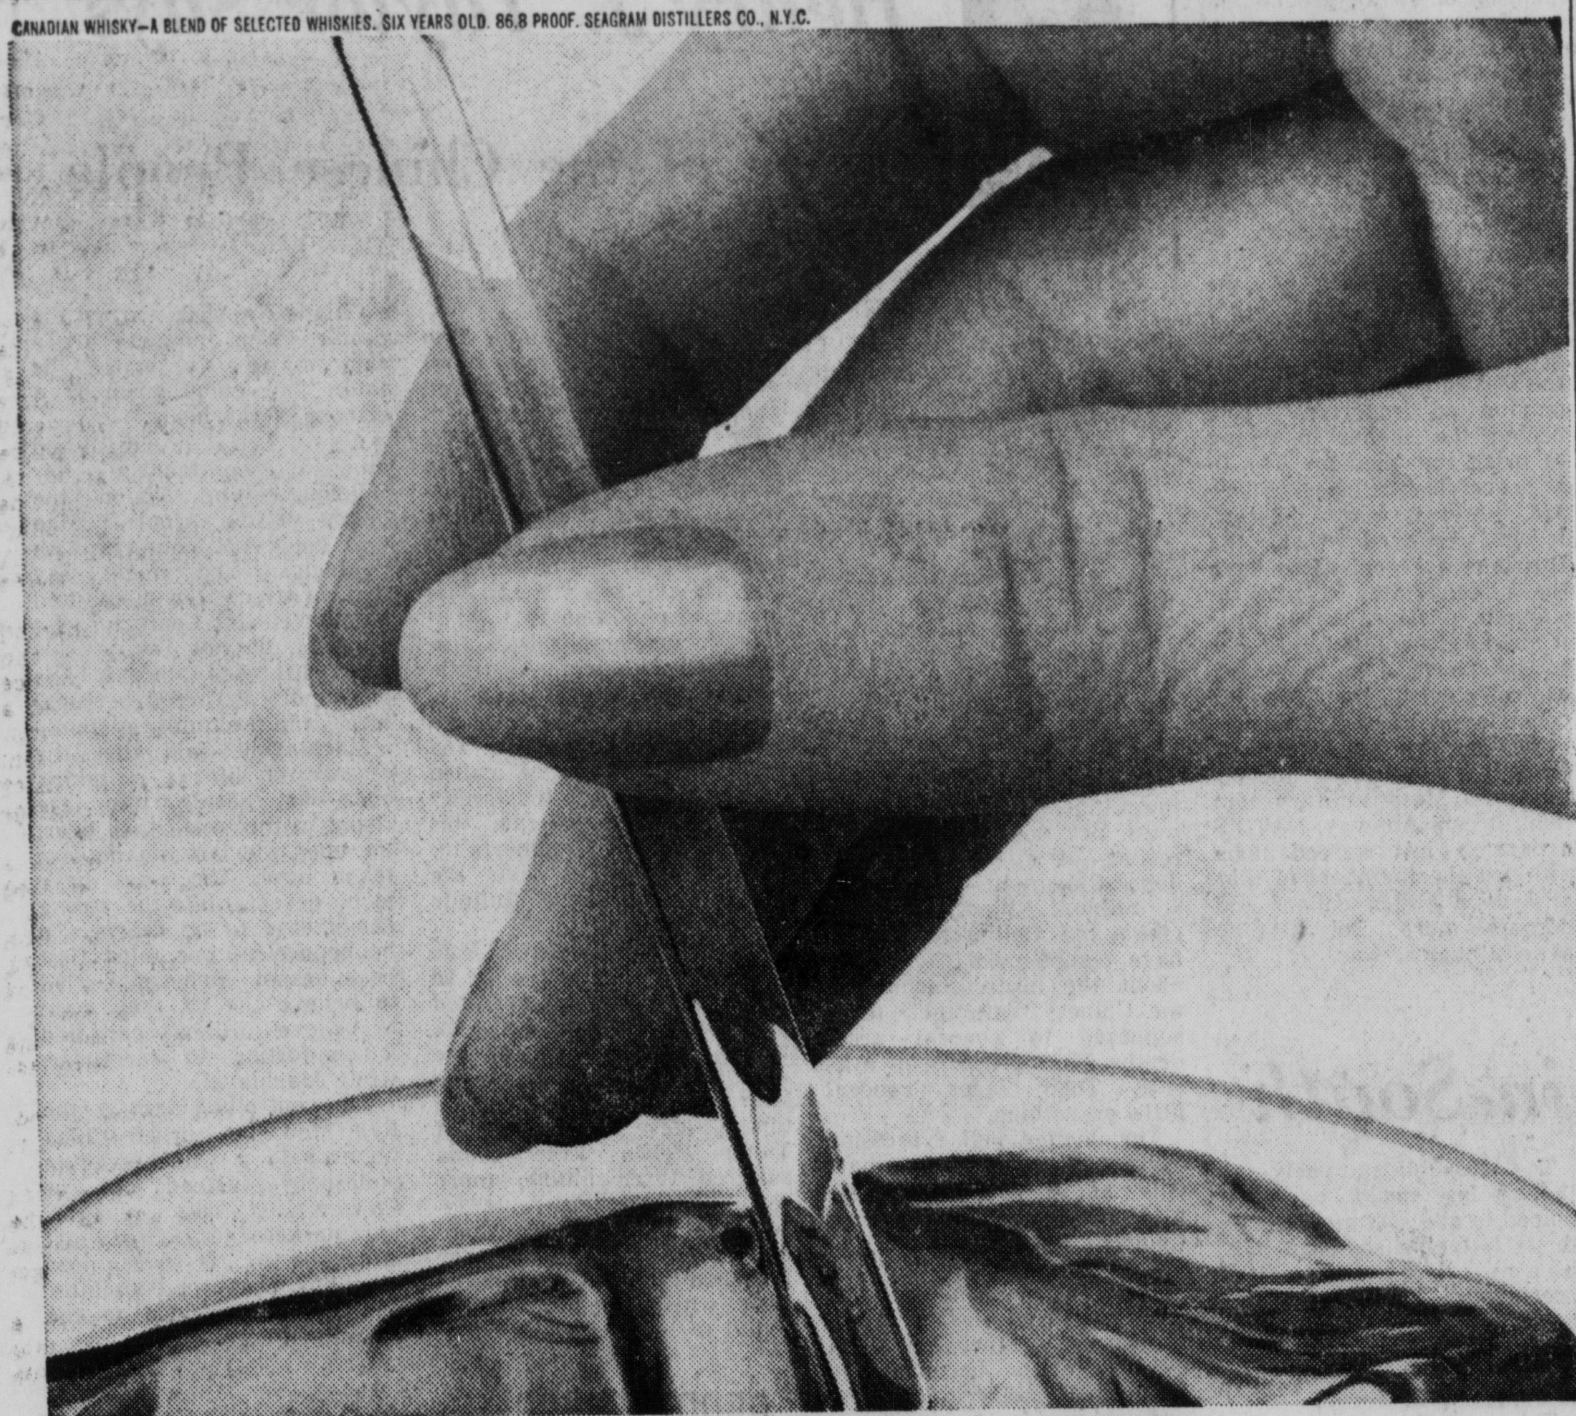

The children attended the wedding Oct. 20 of their 39-year-old mother and the 62-year-old Onassis on the Greek shipping magnate's privately-owned island of Skorpios. The children then returned to their private schools in New York.

During the flight aboard a Trans World Airlines jet Mrs. Onassis sat with Colin Simpson, a senior executive of Olympic Airways, owned by her husband.

Mrs. Onassis wore a dark gray coat over a short-sleeved, lighter gray dress, gold earrings, a brown shoulder bag, and low-heeled brown shoes. Her dress was midlength.

She was met by Onassis' 18-year-old daughter, Christina. John and Caroline Kennedy were not there because of the weather, which was wet and foggy. The plane was 2 1/2 hours late in arriving due to a refueling stop at Boston and a stacking up over Kennedy.

UR Needs the Best

The position of director of Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, which has been vacant since September, 1967 when Eric Hemphill resigned, should be filled by the best qualified man available for the job. It plainly would be absurd to give preference to a less qualified local man over a competent outsider.

During the past year, the duties of the office have been carried out by Ward B. Tongue, acting director, who resigned to accept the position of executive director of a Westchester County Urban Renewal Agency.

We all know by now that the position of urban renewal director demands talent and skill of a high order. The absurdity of excluding the best fitted because he isn't "home talent" can be underscored by noting that if a city chances to be the home of a big league baseball team no one objects to the hiring of a Gibson or a Brock. Is there any reason why that kind of common sense should not apply to the urban renewal post which also demands special qualifications.

We also know that the local urban renewal program, which has been beset by controversy and ground to a halt by bickering between the agency, the city administration, the regional office and Congressman Resnick, cannot afford inexperience in area redevelopment. The project is too far advanced from the standpoint of the razing of property. A large number of homes and business places in the downtown section of the city has been knocked down and now the bulldozer is at work in the uptown section.

If local and federal officials had moved forward in a united front and the program implemented, housing and other facilities now would be underway in the Broadway East project. Redevelopment should have been started in the cleared areas in the downtown section.

If construction isn't soon started and sites placed in acceptable condition, there will be no offers for use of property and urban renewal could be stalled for years. Private developers, who are essential to a successful urban renewal project, cannot be expected to show an interest in this area until there are real signs of revitalization.

Erection of the new city hall building in the downtown renewal section, where there is an adequate amount of space required for a municipal building, would be the start of a revitalization program which would attract new industries, business establishments and private homes.

Electoral College

Every four years, after a national election, there is a hue and cry to reform our electoral system, with the first step being to dump the Electoral College. And as has been the case since the college was first instituted in 1787, nothing has been done about it. This time, though, there just could be some action, generated by the strong third-party entry of George Wallace. Never, since the election was thrown into Congress in 1801 and 1825, has the nation had such a scare, if one wants to use that word, as that of November 5.

What are the alternatives? We could have a direct popular vote, where the man getting the majority would be elected. In the case of a two-man race, this would have to be more than half of the vote. But in a three-man race, such as the one we just went through, the winner could wind up with less than 50 per cent, as President-elect Richard Nixon did. Should a person who has been voted for by less than half of the electorate become president? This is a moot question. The American Bar Association had offered a plan whereby a three-or-more-man race the top man would have to have at least 40 per cent of the vote, otherwise there would be a runoff between the top two.

With the possibility that three-person races will become the order of the day, a more direct system than now in use must be instituted, so that we shall not have the frightening prospects of having a handful of politicians in Congress decide who shall have the most important post in the world for four years.

With this now imperative consideration, there is something else that should be overhauled at the same time, and that is the party convention system. It wouldn't make much sense to carefully devise a system where a direct vote of the people would elect the president, only to have had that person put before them by decision from a smoke-filled back room. True, a convention doesn't quite fit that description, but the decisions made in the hall are actually born in the back rooms. Furthermore, only a comparative handful in the convention makes the final nominating choice. So if reform there shall be, let's start from the beginning.

In addition to doing away with an archaic system, eliminating the Electoral College also does away with another bit of anachronistic sham, and that is the meeting due on December 16, at which time the electors in each state will solemnly make known their vote to Congress. Since the electors have been chosen by their political parties, there is nothing independent about their actions. At best, the whole procedure is pointless, although harmless. They never kick over the traces by going against the wish of the voters. But this bit of senseless byplay definitely does not belong in 1968.

NATO's Expansion Plans May Avert Nuclear War

WASHINGTON — Is the next world war to be fought with conventional instead of nuclear weapons, and is the present situation in Eastern Europe and the Middle East likely to bring a climax such as occurred in 1914 and again in 1939?

The news dispatches read very much the same as they did in the two prewar periods. Formal warnings were given beforehand that the free nations would defend the smaller ones, but a military dictatorship in each case questioned the capacity of the western nations to live up to the promises they had given other countries.

To understand what is happening now, it is necessary to consider the crisis in Czechoslovakia, the threatened war in the Middle East and the prolonged war in Vietnam as having all been precipitated by the communists in the belief that the western powers would never get into a big war again.

Even today Moscow and Peking have been encouraged by reading the American newspapers which tell of the widespread protest marches against the Vietnam war, as well as speeches uttered by influential members of both the House and the Senate condemning the war and demanding what amounts to unconditional surrender.

But the words of the United States government commenting on the invasion of Czechoslovakia are explicit and unequivocal. President Johnson on August 21 spoke plainly in a formal statement when he declared:

"The tragic news from Czechoslovakia shocks the conscience of the world. The Soviet Union and its allies have invaded a defenseless country to stamp out a resurgence of ordinary human freedom. It is a sad commentary on the Communist mind that a sign of liberty in Czechoslovakia is deemed a fundamental threat to the security of the Soviet system. 'The excuses offered by the Soviet Union are patently contrived. The Czechoslovakian government did not request its allies to interfere in its internal affairs. No external aggression threatened Czechoslovakia. The action of the Warsaw Pact allies is in flat violation of the United Nations Charter.'

The United Nations has done nothing. Soviet troops are still in Czechoslovakia. There are some indications now that they will remain there, and other countries in Eastern Europe may be invaded, too.

So in the nearly three months that have elapsed since President Johnson issued his warning, it has become evident that the Soviet government does not intend to remove its threat to the peace of Europe. This is why the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, consisting of 15 nations, has just met in Brussels to determine how a large military force can be mobilized which would let Moscow know that serious consequences may ensue if peace is not re-established in Eastern Europe.

What has prevailed in the world in the last few years has been termed "nuclear blackmail." This has been based on the mistaken assumption that an aggressor country would actually use nuclear weapons if a major war broke out. It has been argued, on the other hand, that the end result would be "mutual suicide." Thus the question of how the nations of the world would protect themselves against aggression has been left open. The chances are that the expansion of naval, ground and air forces on a conventional basis now will be larger than ever before in so-called peacetime.

If the western nations do not mobilize their armies and convince the Russians that any invasion of smaller countries will be resisted, the Communists are likely to take further advantage of the situation.

The idea has been expressed in some quarters that the Russians have lately been playing an important role behind the scenes in trying to bring the Vietnam war to a peaceful conclusion. There are, however, many skeptics. It is believed that the Russians are content to have the United States involved in Vietnam because they think it makes easier the fulfillment of their own plans to extend control over the smaller countries in Eastern Europe.

Can a war be fought effectively without nuclear weapons? Many military men think it can. Anyway, NATO's expansion just agreed upon will cost the members of that alliance a billion dollars and perhaps more. But it may avert a nuclear war.

There Are Communist Ties In New Panama Government

WASHINGTON—While the American people have been engrossed in their own election, the seeds of Castroism appear to have been planted in Panama, astride the Canal Zone, vital to the security of the United States.

A military junta, which the United States so frequently treats with benign approval, has now been recognized by the State Department, apparently ignoring the fact that the new military leaders have had close ties with Latin American communism.

The top military man, Col. Omar Torrijos, was once a member of the People's party, a front for the Communist party, and the No. 2 man, Col. Boris Martinez, was once the communist leader of students at the University of Panama.

Despite this, the State Department last week extended the new Panamanian government official U.S. recognition.

What happened was that the new military dictators, knowing the United States was busy with its own problems and long frowned on Arnulfo Arias, the newly elected president, proceeded to oust him on October 11, exactly 11 days after he had been sworn in as president.

The Backstage Story

Here is a play-by-play account of what happened: Last May Dr. Arias, twice before elected president of Panama, was elected for a third time, despite the flagrant stealing of ballots. In some cases, the political opposition raided the polling places armed with machine guns.

Despite this, Arnulfo Arias won. He had the backing of a very heavy popular vote plus the support of the old Panamanian business families which have comprised the ruling oligarchy.

Opposed to him were the national guard, trained and equipped by the American army. The Defense Department has set up special jungle training in Panamanian jungles. As a result, the Panamanian national guard is considered one of the most efficient police forces in Latin America.

However, it also has a monopoly on Panama's bus transportation, and controls the brothels, gambling houses, and bolita. From long experience the guard knew that President Arias would immediately cut off these lucrative concessions. It was reported well before his Oct. 1 inauguration, therefore, that a military coup was inevitable.

The first coup was attempted on Sept. 26, four days before the inauguration. Another was tried on the afternoon of Sept. 29. Finally, on the evening of Sept. 29, President-elect Arias met in a private home with the commander of the national guard, Gen. Bolivar Vallarino, where it was agreed that Gen. Vallarino would not participate in a coup but would be moved to Washington as military attaché. He could play an important part in the plans for building a new Panama Canal, it was agreed.

It was also agreed that the No. 2 man in the guard, Col. Jose Maria Pinilla, would replace Vallarino as guard commander for 45 days and then retire in favor of Col. Bolivar Urrutia.

However, the most important agreement made at this secret meeting was that three troublemakers inside the national guard who had been organizing revolt would be transferred as military attaches to Salvador, Chile and Colombia.

They were: Col. Omar Torrijos, Col. Boris Martinez, and Capt. Frederico Boyd, organizer of the Panamanian Green Beret corps.

With this agreement apparently satisfying the leaders of the guard, Arnulfo Arias was sworn in as President two days later—Oct. 1.

Three Troublemakers Remained

But the leaders of the guard did not carry out their agreement. The three troublesome guard officers were not transferred to Chile, Salvador and Colombia, and the top command did not carry out its promised shake-up.

Finally, President Arias acted himself. On Oct. 11 he ordered the transfer of the three troublesome officers who had been plotting a revolt against him. That same day he also accepted the resignation of Gen. Vallarino and appointed Col. Pinilla commander of the guard.

On that same day also the revolt started. The officers who were to be transferred took over.

Gen. Vallarino was vacationing on the island of Topogay with his family. In his absence Col. Pinilla, the No. 2 man of the guard, was put under house arrest and Col. Urrutia, No. 3 man in the guard, was thrown into jail until late in the night on Oct. 11.

By this time the junta had organized its own government, installing Col. Pinilla as a front for president.

Meanwhile Col. Omar Torrijos, the real ruler of the junta, was not only a member of the People's party of Panama, but his brother Moses Torrijos, a newspaperman, was sent to Moscow, all expense paid by the communists. Col. Torrijos' sister-in-law is married to Ricaurte Soler, leader of the Chinese wing of the Communist party in Panama.

Boris Martinez, the No. 2 member of the junta, is commander of all the armed forces in Cherokee Province, second largest province of Panama and was a former active Communist leader in the university.

These two, along with Capt. Frederico Boyd, have now established the most ruthless military dictatorship in Latin America. There have been shootings, seizure of property, strict censorship. For the first time in history, the national guard has fired on civilians.

The activity of the military junta has solidified the civilian population against it and behind President Arias, who has now taken refuge in Washington. Perhaps at no time has there been such unity on the part of Panamanians.

Henry J. Taylor Says

Nature of the Chinese People

PASADENA, CALIF.—

Scientists at California Institute of Technology here tell me that our reconnaissance satellites have photographed a 14-acre H-bomb plant of the gaseous diffusion type, which takes hydroelectric power from the Yellow River near Lanzhou, China.

As Mao Tse-tung beats his Red drum against the United States, we read other military facts and are drenched by political and diplomatic speculations. But we hear practically nothing about the nature of the Chinese people.

The general feeling is that the Chinese is a mysterious man. Yet, you do not get that feeling—at all—among them. John Chinaman is not "inscrutable" and remains so until the argument is over. Promptly thereafter John Chinaman becomes as congenial, agreeable and understandable as you please.

A Han Chinese describes and differentiates the pure Chinese from various minority groups in China and among the Vietnamese, Koreans, etc. About 90 per cent of China's population are Han Chinese. They have suffered greatly. Thirteen million died in a famine in 1978. In 1928 five million died in a famine. At least 20 million were lost in the Sino-Japanese War, which was part of World War II. For them it lasted 14 years.

I have always admired and liked the Chinese. Most of those I've known in China, uncorrupted, have something really fine in them. All Chinese regard the Hans of the Yangchow area as especially distinctive and lovely, with small bones, fine features, large eyes fringed with long lashes and aquiline noses. Marco Polo was a magistrate of Yangchow many centuries ago, and Chinese tease other Chinese with aquiline noses as being Marco Polo Chinese. And in this back country, as elsewhere, you encounter at once the peasants' simple delight in doing anyone a service. From 478 B.C. until Mao Tse-tung took over all generations of Chinese lived and died by the moral principles of Confucius (551-479 B.C.) as pronounced in the Confucian analects (Confucius' K'ung Futsu to the Chinese) was not a religious leader. He offered no personal god. He was solely a spiritual leader, a philosopher.

Confucius emphasized five virtues: kindness, truthfulness, politeness, integrity and sagacity. He taught subordination to parents and relatives in what he called "the core of life," the family system. He taught that this gives you immortality because it makes your life merely a link in an infinite chain of lives.

When Stalin-stooge Mao Tse-tung's 1934 attempt to take over China was defeated by President Chiang Kai-shek nearly three million Chinese were killed in the fratricide known as Mao's long march to the safety of the caves of Yenan. Then Free China suffered three million more casualties against newly equipped Mao and his Communist renegades when they launched their 1945 stab in the back within the war-racked country.

Chiang Kai-shek warned the people. "The Japanese are a skin disease here," he said, "but communism is a disease of the heart."

As Lenin substituted atheistic communism for religion, calling religion "the opium of the people," Mao also could not compete with Confucius. You might say that, in effect Mao substituted Machiavelli for Confucius. We probably do not realize this root difference, but it has profoundly shattered personal ideals and the family system.

Machiavelli said that the essence of life is a taking over—the people who are rising in the world take over, the ones who are sinking are taken over. The weak have to be decent while the strong can choose to be decent. To be benevolent one must first be a despot. Men can be led to believe the lie they want to believe. Millions can find it comforting to surrender, wrote Machiavelli.

The controlling fact is the Red Mao has turned China toward a Machiavellian philosophy instead of Confucian. This largely unremarked fact, and its evil effect on us, is even more revealing than the satellites' photographs revealed to me at Caltech here.

Senators Hear Kosygin Caution

MOSCOW (AP) Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told two U.S. senators today that the United States and the Soviet Union would find it hard to achieve a relaxation of international tensions if either sought to negotiate from a position of strength, the senators reported.

U.S. President-elect Richard M. Nixon advocated a position of strength for the United States during the election campaign.

Sens. Albert Gore D-Tenn. and Claiborne Pell D-R.I. told a news conference that in an hour and 40 minute meeting with Kosygin the premier cautioned against either of the great powers seeking to become decisively stronger than the other.

Lovers Park Near Ambush. Car Wrecked

LUTON, England (AP) — Paul Sibley, 18, parked his car in a deserted spot Saturday night and turned toward Janice Eaves, his girl friend. Suddenly a flare lit the sky and two men began smashing the car windows with pickax handles.

Sibley tried to drive away but was stopped by a police roadblock. He had parked in the middle of a police ambush set for a gang's getaway car.

The police said they would pay for the repairs to Sibley's car. They said the detectives had attacked without warning in the belief that the car contained armed criminals.

"I am sure I will always be nervous going out in a car in the dark," said 18-year-old Janice, who was cut by the broken window glass.

Camera Club Speaker Named

SHERWOOD LANDERS

Guest speaker at the Kingston Camera Club meeting Wednesday will be Sherwood Landers, chief photographer for Dutchess Suburban Newspapers, a chain of nine weeklies based in Hyde Park. Guests may attend the meeting 7:30 p.m. at the Art-craft Galleries, 694 Broadway.

Landers, a former resident of Old Hurley and a graduate of Kingston High School, in addition to his photographic duties serves as managing editor of the Rhinebeck Examiner, part of the chain.

During part of last year, Landers served as a staff photographer for the Middletown Times Herald Record, one of the largest morning dailies in the east. He has been in the newspaper trade for almost 10 years and resides in Hyde Park. Landers will discuss various techniques in news photography as well as displaying several samples of his work.

People Are 'Trapped Like Rats,' As Building Explodes in Flames

GLASGOW, Scotland (UPI)—The screaming stopped in a matter of seconds. At least 20 men and women lay dead "trapped like rats" behind iron bars of a 109-year old building that had exploded in flames.

Police and fire authorities today launched an investigation into the Monday blaze while rescue workers searched for possibly still more bodies in the smoke-filled warehouse along Glasgow's dock front. "The dead were trapped like rats," said Ballie James Anderson, governor of Glasgow's police. "It is sheer madness to have a building like this."

The fire broke out Monday morning in the old building which until two years ago had been a whisky store and warehouse. The building had iron bars over all the windows which were standing behind the iron bars and there was no fire exit at the rear. The only exit was a narrow passage which was engulfed in flames.

A truck driver, George Hendry, delivering goods to a shop nearby, told a story of those inside. "I heard the crackling of flames and then fire bells," Hendry said. "Girls were screaming and men and women were bolted from the other side, which jointly housed a furniture and upholstery manufacturer and a glassware company.

Catholic Priest First Honor Medal Winner

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest identified as the first chaplain to win the Medal of Honor in Vietnam is among the five latest recipients of the decoration.

Capt. Angelo J. Liteky, who receives the nation's top military decoration today from President Johnson, was credited with carrying more than 20 wounded soldiers to an evacuation spot Dec. 6 when the company he was with came under heavy fire near Phuoc Lac, Litoky, 37, of Jacksonville, Fla., received neck and foot wounds.

He is only the second chaplain to win the medal. The four other Army men receiving the medal were Spec. 4 Gary G. Wetzel, 21, of Oak Creek, Wis.; Spec. 5 Dwight H. Johnson, 21, of Detroit, Mich.; Sgt. Sammy L. Davis, 22, of Martinsville, Ind.; and Capt. James A. Taylor, 30, an Arcata, Calif., native stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

The awards brought to 61 the number of medals of Honor presented during the Vietnam war. Wetzel, a helicopter gunner, lost an arm when rockets exploded near him Jan. 8. But he wiped out an enemy automatic weapons emplacement and dragged his commander to safety.

Johnson, a tank crewman, fought with a pistol, submachine guns and a rifle butt to help a platoon under attack by a battalion-sized enemy force near Dak To Jan. 15.

Davis' artillery battery was hit by a mortar attack and ground assault near Cai Lay Nov. 18, 1967. Despite a direct hit on his position and severe wounds, Davis kept the howitzer going, stopping only to paddle a raft across a river to rescue three wounded comrades.

Taylor ignored painful wounds to aid members of his armored cavalry squadron while under intense fire west of Que Son Nov. 9, 1967.

Girl Is Dead Of Hepatitis; Attempts Fail

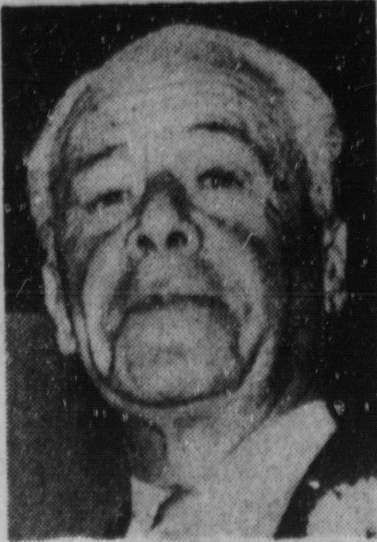

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Doctors say an emergency operation to save the life of a desperately ill 3-year-old girl by having her share the liver of a chimpanzee has failed. The child died Monday night in the H. M. Egleston Hospital for Children at Emory University.

Her name was withheld at the request of her parents.

The child was stricken with hepatitis, a viral liver disease. Last Thursday, doctors connected her circulatory system to that of a chimpanzee in a five-hour operation, so that the chimp's liver could function for the girl while her own fought the disease.

Although temporary improvement was achieved by the operation, "it is reported with sadness that the primary objective—of restoring this apparently hopelessly ill child to health—was not," one doctor said.

The three eyes on a coconut mean the original flower of the coconut palm contained three ovaries but only one remained at maturity.

PRODUCER DIES — Walter Wanger, Hollywood's most extravagant film producer, died in his sleep at his apartment in New York Monday at the age of 74. A spokesman said Wanger suffered an apparent heart attack. The veteran producer, whose 50-year career carried Rudolph Valentino, Greta Garbo and Ingrid Bergman to their greatest triumphs, had been retired from Hollywood since his production of Cleopatra, starring Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Rex Harrison, ended in 1962 in acrimony. Wanger is survived by two daughters, Shelly Wanger and Stephanie Guest, wife of the New York socialite. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Area Vietnam Victim Buried At Arlington

Burial, with full military honors, took place Saturday in Arlington National Cemetery for Capt. William D. Meara Jr., a native of Poughkeepsie, who died Nov. 2 of wounds suffered during ground action in Vietnam. Capt. Meara was the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Meara of Kingston. He was commander of B Company, 7th Cavalry, 1st Cavalry Division, Airmobile.

As Brooklyn School Trustee

Monumental Task for Johnson

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Herbert F. Johnson has an overwhelming title as a commissioner in the State Education Department, but it's no match for the task he now faces in the role of trustee of a crisis-ridden, experimental school district in New York City.

Four years ago, Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. tapped Johnson to fill the newly created position of associate commissioner of educational finance and management services.

That job put onto Johnson's shoulders much of the responsibility for deciding how the department should spend the nearly $2 billion it receives annually in state and federal aid.

It also meant that the 60-year-old administrator would work with local school districts in the planning of new buildings, bus service and lunch programs.

As if this weren't enough to keep Johnson busy, Allen frequently took him to New York City this fall to help find a way out of three teachers' strikes that virtually paralyzed the 1.1-million-pupil system.

Allen decided this weekend to name a trustee for the Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimental district in Brooklyn, focal point of the crisis, and tapped Johnson for the post.

A native of Tower, Minn., Johnson received his BA degree from the University of Minnesota, majoring in education. He taught 6th-grade mathematics in Peekskill, where he also served as a principal and director of elementary education.

In 1947, Johnson became superintendent of schools in Tarrytown. Five years later, he was appointed school superintendent in Rockville Centre, on Long Island, and held that post until joining the Education Department July 1, 1964.

He added to his credentials a doctorate in education at Columbia University in New York in 1954.

While in Long Island, Johnson was president of the Metropolitan School Study Council and president of the Superintendents' Organization of Nassau County.

Associates describe the dark-haired Johnson as exceptionally articulate. Allen has called him "a highly regarded school administrator."

In speeches, Johnson is a staunch defender of public education as indispensable to the proper functioning of a democracy.

The Johnsons, who live in suburban Delmar, have five children, including a daughter in the ninth grade.

HOOVER SUCCESSOR?—Po

lice Chief Thomas Cahill of San Francisco, who is mentioned as front runner to replace J. Edgar Hoover as FBI head, said Saturday that he thinks Hoover "should not retire at this time." There is speculation Cahill might replace Hoover in the Nixon Administration. Hoover, who has called Cahill "the best police chief in the country," turns 74 Jan. 1, 1969 and is allegedly considering retirement. Cahill has served as police chief since 1958. He is president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and a member of President Johnson's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Indian Kinder

opened 34 kindergartens on Indian reservations this fall for the first time in history. Seventeen of them are on the Navajo Reservation, the nation's largest.

The kindergarten program emphasizes participation by parents. Mothers are urged to ride school buses daily with their children and then take part in the classroom, dining room and playground activities.

Each kindergarten has one teacher and a teacher's aide. Most of the aides are Navajos who are training for work as regular teachers.

The BIA schools supplement the preschool Head Start program sponsored by the Office of Navajo Economic Opportunity.

John Ward was a color TV holdout... too many service problems left him in doubt.

Then we showed him our "works in the drawer".

John Ward was afraid of what Color TV would cost after he paid for it. And he was right. Color TV can be a costly problem. Unless it's Quasar.

In Quasar, you have two things going for you. All solid-state components, (except rectifier and picture tube) for years of dependable performance. And the fast, at-home service you can only get when the works are in a drawer.

Unlike tubes, our solid-state components are designed to work without burning themselves out. You get space-age dependability for sound, for picture, for color.

But we didn't stop with dependability. We made service a snap, too. We put most components (all 10 of our tubeless mini-circuits) in a drawer. And we designed them so that they snap in and snap out. In minutes.

A repairman comes into your home, pulls out the drawer, snaps in a replacement circuit, pushes the drawer back, and that's it. The most you may miss is a few commercials.

If you've been waiting for something better in Color TV, why wait any longer... Quasar's here!

Liner Cruces Into Docks Twice on Its Maiden Voyage

GLASGOW (UPI)—The liner Queen Elizabeth II—with Prince Charles on her bridge and 20,000 persons watching from shore—crunched twice into docks today on her maiden voyage.

The 65,000-ton liner first scraped a wooden wharf as she slid out of her fitting out basin. The crash sent a plume of smoke skyward and dozens of dock workers scurried for safety. The collision put a 20-foot scrape on the freshly painted 960-foot hull.

At the end of her short voyage down the Clyde, the liner picked up a 10-foot scratch as she entered the dry dock into which she was being shepherded by tugs for a final coat of hull paint. The ship moved 13 miles under her own steam. The liner will make its first transatlantic voyage Dec. 23.

5 Burglaries In Kingston, Little Loot

Five burglaries in the city last night, reportedly netted very little in the way of cash or merchandise according to Kingston City Police this morning.

Break-ins occurred at The New York Telephone Company office at Bruyn Avenue and Cornell Street, the Moose Club on Prince Street, the law offices of Norman Kellar, 14 Pearl Street, the Walnut Grove on Field Court and the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

A sixth burglary was reported yesterday at Bonnie's Restaurant at Broadway and Cedar streets.

According to Lt. Lemuel F. Howard of the Detective Bureau, entry to the telephone company, Moose Club, Walnut Grove and the restaurant were all gained through rear doors. The law office was entered through a rear window.

Although ransacked, nothing was reported missing from the telephone company, Moose Club and law office. Police were still investigating the church break-in at noon today.

Juke boxes and cigarette machines were the target at the Walnut Grove and Bonnie's Restaurant. Silver was taken in both instances but the amount has not been determined. The coin box of a bowling game at Bonnie's was also rifled.

The number of city and county burglaries during the past few days constitute a wave of such occurrences, police agencies added.

Approval for Business Loan

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick announced today that the Small Business Administration has approved a loan to the Greene County Industrial Development Corporation. This organization will assist Becker Electronics Corporation of East Durham, who manufacture electric loudspeakers.

The financing of the loan is as follows: Small Business Administration, $48,000; First Trust Company of Albany, $48,000; N.Y. Job Development Authority, $48,000; Greene County Industrial Development Corporation, $16,000 for a total of $160,000.

The money will be used to expand production facilities and to construct additions to existing plants. The company now employs 134 people and with this loan, 20 new jobs will be created.

Sulphur is mentioned in early records of many countries. The Romans used it in medicine as well as warfare.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—The market opened firm in moderate trading today.

Shortly after the opening, the UPI stock market indicator showed a gain of 0.36 per cent on 370 issues on the tape. Of these, advances outnumbered declines, 181 to 95. The Dow Jones industrial average eased.

Steels moved higher. Autos were on the downtrack. Chemicals moved upward. Oils were mixed.

In the steels, Bethlehem and Youngstown each picked up  $\frac{1}{8}$ ¢.

General Motors and Chrysler led the easier autos. GM gave up  $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to 85¢, Chrysler  $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to 62½¢.

In the chemicals Du Pont jumped  $\frac{3}{4}$ ¢ to 71½¢ while Allied rose  $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ to 34½¢.

Woodstock School to Have Lights in Front

Ontario School Board, meeting last night, agreed to have lights placed in front of the Woodstock School and approved the budget for the 1969 Head Start program. It also heard a 30-page report of the Transportation Lay Committee which has recently completed a study of bus transportation needs of the school district.

Ontario's share of the Head Start program will be $3,670 with the federal government providing the balance of the funds required.

The transportation committee, with Raymond Lauterbach, chairman, reported that it has considered three aspects of the transportation program and made recommendations on the question of whether the district should own and operate its own fleet of buses, contract for the entire fleet or undertake to combine a system of owning and contracting.

The committee basically recommended the following: 1. In the foreseeable future the district should maintain the contractual agreements as its principle means of providing transportation.

2. District-owned school buses should be utilized only to the extent of providing for special transportation requirements of the district such as to athletic and musical events and field trips. District-owned buses should also be kept (there are five now) to provide flexibility, should contractual buses be bogged down with bad weather, medical difficulties, excess number of trips or any other reason.

3. Realizing the limitation of the legal aspects of transportation contracts, the committee recommends the board continue to utilize several contractors rather than just one.

A Yank and the Million Offer-- Waits for Call From Red Chinese

By JOHN VINOCUR

PARIS (AP) — An American offering $1 million for information about Hugh Francis Redmond sits in a hotel room here and awaits for the Red Chinese to call.

They didn't in London, the Hague or Stockholm, and it doesn't seem likely they will call here either.

The man is Sol Friedman, a Yonkers, N.Y., lawyer who is administrator of a $1 million fund for Redmond, an American who has been in Shanghai jails for the last 17 years on spy charges.

Public Subscription

The money was raised by public subscription to buy Redmond's release. But since July 4, 1967 the Red Chinese have cut off all news about him.

"We're now at the point where the money is for buying information," said Friedman. "Is he dead or alive? How can we find out? His 72-year-old mother is literally tortured by not knowing."

Redmond, 48, also of Yonkers, was arrested in Shanghai in 1951 and sentenced to life imprisonment in 1954 on charges of maintaining contact with U.S. intelligence agents in Hong Kong.

Advertisements placed in newspapers in the cities where Communist China has diplomatic representatives have netted Friedman many calls from men with schemes and price tags, ranging from $10,000 to $250,000.

Other callers "just seem kooky, fortune-hunting types," Friedman said.

Fears for Safety

The lawyer said he fears for Redmond's safety because the other Americans imprisoned in Communist China have been allowed to correspond regularly with their families.

The other prisoners are Roman Catholic Bishop James E. Walsh, now 76, of Cumberland, Md., serving a 20-year term imposed in 1960; John T. Downey, 37, of Wallingford, Conn., serving a life term since 1954 on espionage charges; and Richard G. Fecteau, 39, of Lynn, Mass., sentenced in 1952 to 20 years imprisonment on spy charges.

In each European capital where he waits, Friedman has made a perfunctory trip to the Red Chinese mission to deposit a form letter concerning Redmond.

Frustrating Trip

It was refused in the Hague and accepted in Stockholm. In London, "I was told, Did I know that America was a war-mongering nation? Did I know that America has committed an act of hostility towards the People's Republic of China by occupying and permitting the occupation of Taiwan?"

"I said I was aware of the Chinese position on these things, and I thought for a second we were moving. But that was all. The man went away," said Friedman.

"It's been a frustrating trip."

Church Film Series

LAKE KATRINE—The Rev. William Amiraault of St. Catherine Labouré Parish announced the institution of a series of adult film showings and discussions for interested parishioners in the Lake Katrine area.

The films, shown on diocesan closed-circuit television, are scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesdays. Father Amiraault noted that the films will be shown at St. Catherine Labouré school, to be followed by discussion of the social and religious problems posed by the films.

The office is open Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Association is a member of the Community Chest in Ulster County. In Saugerties, information may be had by calling Mrs. Edwin Shults, and in New Paltz by calling Mrs. Albert S. Kerr.

for the rest of the year: Dec. 4, Toys and Neighbors; Jan. 8, Vivre and The Language of Faces; Jan. 22, Satan's Choice; Feb. 5, No Reason to Stay; Feb. 19, The Hand; Mar. 5, Two Men and a Wardrobe; Mar. 19, Phoebe; Apr. 16, The Game; Apr. 30, The Bird and The World, the Campus and Sister Lucy.

Father Amiraault indicated that anyone wishing further information may call him.

One to Spare

NEW DELHI (AP) — Even engineers are superstitious.

The Delhi government asked engineers to build 13 spurs across the Jumuna River to prevent soil erosion.

But 14 spurs were built, because 13 is an unlucky number.

RELAXING PANDA — Moscow's giant panda An-An was brought to London in the hope that he would mate with the panda, Chi-Chi. But love has not bloomed; in fact, the pair has been unfriendly toward each other. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Mental Health Bus a Week Earlier

The Middletown State Hospital monthly bus, sponsored by the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, will run one week earlier than usual this month because of Thanksgiving. The bus will operate on Wednesday, Nov. 20. The bus leaves from Kingston in front of the Park Diner, Academy Green, at 11:45 a.m.

It stops at The Elms in Roseton County Association for Mental Health, 27 East O'Reilly Street.

The office is open Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Association is a member of the Community Chest in Ulster County. In Saugerties, information may be had by calling Mrs. Edwin Shults, and in New Paltz by calling Mrs. Albert S. Kerr.

Death Penalty Constitutional, According to California Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court, in ruling that the death penalty is constitutional, apparently opened the door to new penalty trials for almost all the 85 men and one woman now awaiting the San Quentin gas chamber.

The convictions stand. But the court also ruled Monday that juries in two cases on appeal will have to decide, once again, whether death or life imprisonment should be imposed as punishment.

By extension, the principle applies to most of the other 84 cases, said Steve Raston, West Coast director of the legal defense fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which filed the appeals more than a year ago.

At San Quentin, Associate Warden James W.L. Park said the decision did not seem unexpected to the 83 men on death row.

"Their reaction is restrained until they see the actual decision and find out what it means for each one of them," Park said.

Park said one condemned man not on death row is before a court and a condemned woman is in the state women's prison at Corona. The 86th candidate for the gas chamber is due to be formally sentenced Friday.

The State Supreme Court's 4-3 decision was written by Justice Louis H. Burke, who ruled that capital punishment has been employed throughout history and cannot be challenged as cruel or unusual under either federal or state constitutions.

"I think it is the law," said Gov. Ronald Reagan. "I concur with it as a proper decision."

Reagan favors the death penalty as a deterrent to crime.

Former Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who fought for years to abolish the death penalty, agreed partly with the decision. "Capital punishment should be abolished," he said. "But not by the courts. This is a matter for the legislature."

The two new penalty trials ordered by the state high court are for Robert Page Anderson, 32, convicted of a San Diego murder, and Frederick Saterfield, 53, convicted of two slayings in Orange County.

In a 6-1 decision the court held that jurors opposing the death penalty were excluded in the original trials. The ruling follows the recent U.S. Supreme Court's Witherspoon decision banning the automatic exclusion of jurors opposing capital punishment.

CHARTER HEARING — Ward W. Ingalsbe Jr., standing, addresses the first of two information meetings scheduled by the Ulster County Charter Commission, of which he is chairman. The second meeting, devoted to discussion of the County Executive, will be held Wednesday, Nov. 20 at 8 p. m. in the Legislature chambers of the Ulster County Office Building. The first meeting drew approximately 40 people for a spirited discussion of the coroner vs. medical examiner system. Other charter commission members present included (L-seated) Verner May, vice chairman; Joseph Martorana, who is also a county legislator; Mrs. Jerome J. Andersen, vice-chairman who headed a subcommittee studying the coroner system; Orrie R. Riehl, also a county legislator, and Harlow F. DeForest. (Powell photo).

Plane Returns to Mexico City After Hijack Trip to Havana

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Seventeen passengers and five crew members returned to Mexico City aboard their Mexican airliner Monday after a man holding a package he said was dynamite hijacked the plane to Havana.

Among the passengers were four Americans and three Canadians. The Americans were listed as J. Taylor and A. Gomez of Tampa, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Culhane of Baltimore, Md. The three Canadians, all from Toronto, were identified as Walter Olson and Ivone and Robert Merler.

The plane was flying from the Yucatan peninsula to Villahermosa, Minatitlan, Veracruz and Mexico City.

Jose Ruiz Hernandez, the pilot of the plane, said a few minutes after it took off from Merida, stewardess Ana Maria Gallegos handed him a note containing a threat "to blow up the plane with a bomb if I refused to change my course and head for Havana."

The pilot sent his copilot back to the passengers' cabin with Miss Gallegos to see what the note was all about. They returned with a man "who looked disheveled, nervous and sweating, as he pressed a long package with his right arm," Ruiz said.

"He said he had sticks of dynamite with a detonator in the package, which he unwrapped to show its contents, and that he was a man determined to do anything unless his instructions were obeyed."

Ruiz said the crew and passengers were treated with great courtesy by Cuban officials and given steak for lunch at the airport. After less than five hours at the Havana airport they took off for Mexico City, without the hijacker.

Mexican Foreign Minister Antonio Carrillo Flores said the name of the hijacker was known but would not be released until all facts of the case could be verified. He said an embassy official who talked to the man in Havana did not believe he was Mexican.

Fortna Gets Post at Vassar

POUGHKEEPSIE — President Alan Simpson of Vassar College has announced the appointment of Robert T. Fortna, associate professor of religion, as Dean of Freshmen. The appointment is effective January 15. Fortna replaces Glen Johnson, recently named assistant to the President.

The new dean joined the Vassar faculty in 1963 after serving as a lecturer in New Testament at Union Theological Seminary. Earlier he had been a member of the faculty at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, Berkeley, Calif.

Fortna earned his bachelor's degree at Yale and Cambridge Universities, and advanced degrees at Cambridge, the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, and the Union Theological Seminary.

In 1967-68 he held fellowships from Vassar, the American Council of Learned Societies, and the American School of Oriental Research, for New Testament research in Jerusalem.

Bill Will Make Women Liable To Pay Alimony

NEW YORK (AP) — Bills will be presented to the state legislature outlawing the so-called alimony jail and making women as well as men legally liable for the payment of alimony.

State Sen. Paul P. E. Bookson, Manhattan Democrat, and Sidney Siller, counsel to the Committee for Fair Divorce and Alimony Laws, announced Monday the pre-filing of such bills.

The suggested changes would abolish such institutions as the New York Civil Prison (alimony jail) in Manhattan. The current law provides up to three months' imprisonment for a man who owes up to $500 in alimony, and up to six months if he owes more than $500.

Section 236 of the Domestic Relations Law provides that the court may direct "the husband WASHINGTON'S SERVICE — George Washington served his country in three important positions — commander-in-chief of the first American Army, president of the Constitutional Convention and president of the United States.

Bookson and Siller seek to have the phrase changed to read "husband or wife."

Siller said a private poll has shown that 76 per cent of the 150 assemblymen and 58 senators favored the abolition of the alimony jail. He said they supported instead the awarding to the plaintiff of a priority civil judgment—that is, one that would supersede any previous money judgment against the defendant.

The 1,200-member committee, of which Siller is counsel, was organized in 1965.

Bank Institute To Hear Lupton

The senior resident agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office in Kingston will be the guest speaker at the Hudson Valley Chapter of Bank Administration Institute meeting Thursday in the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

Special Agent Jack Lupton, a veteran of 21 years with the FBI, will speak at the dinner meeting scheduled to begin at 7 p. m.

He received his early schooling in Binghamton and later attended Hobart and Ithaca Colleges. After serving in the U. S. Navy, he joined the FBI in Sept. 1947.

Closed Circuit Television At Sirhan Murder Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Un- less the defense or prosecution objects, closed circuit television through any public section of will be used to accommodate an overflow crowd of newsmen at the trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan on charges of slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Judge Herbert V. Walker of Superior Court, who will preside at the trial, made the disclosure Monday. He said he will hold a hearing, probably next week, to see if there are any objections.

The defense, at the same hearing, is expected to ask another postponement. The trial now is scheduled to start Dec. 9.

Sirhan, under heavy guard since Kennedy's assassination just after proclaiming victory in California's June presidential primary, is to be tried in Courtroom 107. This was chosen so Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian, can be taken from his 13th floor jail cell without being escorted through any public section of the building.

Workmen have installed steel plates over the windows. The courtroom seats only 75, and Judge Walker said there have been more than 100 requests from "responsible news media" for the 35 seats available for newsmen.

The closed-circuit TV camera would be concealed in a fake airconditioning box. Its view would take in everything but the jury. The camera would be the automatic type used in commercial surveillance. Sight and sound would be piped to a room with seats for about 80 accredited newsmen. The general public would not see the closed-circuit showing.

Time and Money No Obstacles To Man Who Has Wanderlust

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's not too long ago that the so-called idle rich were virtually the only Americans who didn't have to worry about the time and money to travel to faraway places.

For the average middle class American family, a trip abroad, or even across the continent, usually meant months of saving the funds and the extra time needed for that once-in-a-lifetime vacation.

But all that has been changed—time and money no longer are major obstacles to the working American who comes down suddenly with the wanderlust.

These days millions of Americans from all walks of life to trooping off around the world each year to exotic places once the private preserves of the monied set.

Travel time has been drastically reduced by the jet plane. London, Paris, Rome, Jerusalem, Cairo, Cape Town, Hong Kong, Tokyo, Tahiti and Sydney now are hours from the United States instead of days and sometimes weeks. Flying time between New York and Los Angeles and San Francisco is about five hours nonstop and Miami, Chicago, Las Vegas even less.

And for those short of ready cash when the travel fever strikes, there are scores of "go now, pay later" plans, special travel loans offered by banks and other financial institutions and credit cards.

Those small plastic cards, which first appeared on the scene about 20 years ago, have played a major role in spurring travel both in the United States and overseas.

An industry source estimated there are at least 3,000 different types of credit cards available in the United States today with Americans holding about 300 million.

The majority are the so-called "private label" cards, such as those issued gratis by major oil companies to motorists for deferred payment of purchases and services at their service stations across the land. Some of these cards are also accepted by hotels, motels, restaurants and other establishments.

Plane tickets and car rental charges also can be paid off later with credit cards issued free by airlines and rent-a-car companies.

Then there are the so-called travel and entertainment credit cards for which holders generally pay an annual "membership" fee of around $12. Widely accepted abroad and most popular in the United States are those of American Express, Diners Club and Carte Blanche.

Diners Club was the first to come up with the "T & E" card, as it is known to the trade. American Express and Carte Blanche followed.

"Nothing has taken more trouble out of travel since Henry Ford went into the automobile business," said Richard B. Howland, AMEXCO vice president and general manager of the credit card division.

"Our card is almost as good as a letter of credit—sometimes it's better. If money talks and credit cards don't, it's only because the latter do not have to."

There are more than 2.5 million AMEXCO card holders while millions more hold Diners Club and Carte Blanche cards.

With no money down, cardholders can fly around the world on virtually any airline, cruise the seven seas or charter their own boat, go on safari in Africa or South America, dine and drink at the finest restaurants and nightclubs, stay in the best hotels and buy almost anything from an antique to an automobile.

Statements are mailed monthly to cardholders along with duplicates of the original bills charged to the account. The total charges generally are payable on receipt without interest or other service fees. There is an extra charge for extended payments on some bills.

GIs Admit 'Good Treatment;' Serving Time in S. Korean Prison

SUWON, South Korea (UPI)—Pvt. Willie N. Page, 19, from Plaquemine, La., and SP-4 Raymond J. Velasquez, Jr., of Omaha, Neb., are the first American GIs to serve time in a South Korean prison and, as they state it, they are being treated "real good."

A reporter who visited them at the Suwon Correctional Institute could see for himself that the two men—convicted of raping a woman they claim welcomed their advances—were comfortably housed.

"The Koreans think it's kind of an honor for us to be here," said Page. "You know what I mean?"

"Yea, they treat us real good," agreed Velasquez.

Page and Velasquez live in a large room which has two cots, a washbasin with running water, a table, two chairs and a wall locker. They eat apart from the Korean prisoners in what Page calls "our dining room." Their food, supplied by the U.S. Army, is prepared in a separate kitchen by a man Page calls "our cook," a Korean prisoner.

They work from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. in the prison flower garden. "We plant flowers," said Page. "You know, water them sometimes. Things like that. It's easy."

A sign over the door of the room Page and Velasquez occupy proclaims that is "For Foreigners" and another sign, also in English, states that the room has 72 square feet of floor space for each of its two occupants.

Other rooms of about the same size contain as many as 14 Korean prisoners.

The buildings and the grounds of the prison, surrounded by a high concrete wall, are clean and well kept. The prison is located 20 miles south of Seoul in a rich agricultural area.

Page, then 18, and Velasquez, then 19, got themselves into trouble on the night of Sept. 11, 1967. They attended a party at a non-commissioned officers' club where they had drinks with Miss Yu Tae-Hi, daughter of a popular Korean movie actor. Both danced with the 21-year-old woman. Then, according to the prosecution, they took her to their barracks and raped her.

The following day they were arrested and placed in a U.S. Army stockade where they remained until they went on trial Nov. 16, 1967. They were found guilty on Dec. 21. Page was sentenced to a minimum of two and one half years and Velasquez was sentenced to one and a half years to two years by the senior judge of the Seoul district court.

The sentences were the first which included imprisonment for members of U.S. forces since the status of forces agreement between the United States and South Korea went into effect in February, 1967.

Attorneys for Page and Velasquez appealed the convictions all the way to the South Korean Supreme Court. The appeals were denied. So the two GIs were removed from the U.S. Army stockade and placed in the Suwon prison Oct. 4, 1968.

Thus did the Republic of Korea finally exercise its right to jail American GIs who break its laws. Many South Koreans considered it a milestone case.

And that is what Private Willie Page meant when he said Koreans thought it was an "honor" for his buddy and him to be cooped up at Suwon, a correctional institution.

"I've made a lot of good friends here," said Page, who used to be a heavy smoker and now chews a lot of gum. (Smoking is forbidden in the prison). "I consider this a wonderful experience." He said he hoped to return to Korea some day and "go into the restaurant or nightclub business."

"We have learned to speak some Korean," said Velasquez. "I hope to be out by Christmas," said Velasquez. He explained they would both be credited with the time they spent in the stockade and that prisoners are eligible for parole after serving one third of their sentences.

"I've got 17 months to go on my minimum," said Page. "The way things are going maybe I'll be out in six months or a year." Upon release Page and Velasquez will be discharged from the Army as "undesirables."

75 Members of Pope's Guard Perform on Voluntary Basis

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Josef Stalin once exclaimed:

"The Pope! How many divisions has he got?"

The phrase rang around the globe, but few have known the answer.

What does the Pope's Army consist of? There are two part-time volunteer regiments; the Noble Guards and the Palatine Guards, and two professional regiments; the Swiss Guards and the Vatican Gendarmes.

The Noble Guard was founded in 1801 by Pope Pius VII, primarily to give useful employment to the sons of the aristocratic families of the Papal State, then a temporal power of some importance.

Pope Paul recently changed their name to Guards of Honor, and has instructed them to tone down their splendid uniforms. There are 75 members of this unit today, all of them purely voluntary, and doing only a few hours' service monthly during Papal ceremonies.

Today there are 73 Swiss Guards, one colonel, two other officers, one chaplain, one sergeant major, three sergeants, eight corporals, six lance corporals and 51 halbardiers.

They are all Swiss citizens, Catholics and at least 5 feet, 9 inches tall. Their colorful uniforms, which some claim were designed by Michelangelo, have thus far resisted the tide of change.

If the Swiss Guards are the best known of the Pope's soldiers, the Palatine Guard are the most numerous—some 500 of the. Divided into two battalions of volunteers, they are part-time soldiers like the Noble Guards, though of much less blue-blooded origin. They were in fact recruited from among the populace by Pope Pius IX in 1850 to act on ceremonial occasions.

Finally, there are the Pope's policemen—the Vatican Gendarmes. They were formed in 1816 when they were called the Vatican Carabiniers. All professional policemen, they provide the Pope's personal body guard, patrol the streets and buildings of the Vatican.

All told, there are some 800 soldiers in the Pope's army, not much by Stalin's standards, but enough if you consider there are only 856 Vatican citizens—that is about one soldier to each citizen—something that Stalin would surely have approved.

Astronauts May Use Pogo Stick on Moon

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Scientists at Stanford University are working on a pogo stick that will propel astronauts across the surface of the moon in 50-foot jumps.

However, it's no ordinary pogo stick. It will have a seat for the astronaut, gyroscopes to keep him upright, rocket jets to help him steer and possibly a computerized guidance system.

"The moon has no air to fly in, no water to float on, no road to roll over," said project leader Dr. Howard S. Seifert, professor of aeronautical engineering. "But hopping is well adapted to the weak lunar gravity — only one-sixth of earth's."

Seifert said the hopping should not be done by rocket because of its excessive propellant consumption.

"Instead," he said, "it should be done by pressing against the moon's surface with a foot, after the manner of a kangaroo, rabbit, and frog."

Big Bouncer

Plans call for a 1200-pound vehicle that will bounce on a piston operated by compressed gas. Very little gas will be used in each leap, because most of it will be recompressed by landing.

While the upper part of the piston will be attached to the astronaut's seat and associated gear, the bottom will attach to a large, flexible "foot" with cleats for digging into the lunar soil.

The scientists figure the pogo-stick vehicle could jump 30 feet straight up for reconnaissance and scaling a sharp rise. Taking off at a 45-degree angle would carry it to a landing 50 feet away.

At this rate, the lunar pogo stick could cover 10 miles in 1,000 leaps at an average speed of about seven miles per hour, depending on pauses and the terrain.

Fuel consumption would be very low compared to rocket propulsion. Rockets would require about 10 gallons per mile; the piston pogo should go about 10 miles to the gallon.

Among the project's "unknowns" now being studied is the human being's ability to stand such repeated bounces.

The Legion's 50-Year Party: Review Accomplishments

The 50-year birthday party of the American Legion was celebrated recently at the Joyce-Schrick Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on Delaware Avenue.

Local Legionnaires were forced to seek other quarters because of the incendiary fire which gutted the basement of the West O'Reilly Street home.

Some 60 Legionnaires who held membership in the veteran's organization for more than 50 continuous years were honored at the event.

Purpose of the meeting was to review the experiences of Kingston post Legionnaires during the past half-century.

Members reviewed the accomplishments serving disabled comrades and their widows and orphans, youth programs, oratorical contests, Boys State and Boys Nation, child welfare, receptions to new citizens, and Americanism.

It was recalled that the highest membership attained by World War I veterans in Kingston was 778 in 1937 when William T. Roedell was commander.

Recalled also was how the Kingston Post Drum Corps was organized and equipped, how it participated in many parades, how $4,300 was raised by local subscription to transport the corps to the National Legion Convention in San Antonio, Texas, where it led the national convention parade.

Songs of World War I were sung "with great gusto," led by Richard Scherer whose son, Timothy, sang some patriotic songs in duet.

The meeting ended with a serving of a roast beef supper and a 50-year anniversary cake.

Preparation and serving the dinner was by Chef William Hanley, Joseph Kelly, Charles Cooper, Roy Markle, Robert Delaney, and William Jordan.

All arrangements were in charge of the 50th year anniversary committee chaired by Thomas Bohan with Clarence Hyde, co-chairman, Commander Everett Emmick, William Hanley and Conrad J. Heiselman, former Mayor of Kingston and master of ceremonies for the event.

Hearing Tonight

Hurley Zoning

Town of Hurley Supervisor Robert Schneller today called upon residents of his town to attend tonight's public hearing on the matter of zoning the township.

Schneller urged that those for, as well as those against zoning, turn out at 7:30 p. m. at the Hurley School.

In a statement issued today, Schneller said, "About one year ago the town board instituted zoning, feeling it was a necessity for the town. Since that time, the zoning has been attacked by a legal technicality and those who oppose it have gotten a legal injunction against it. There has been no legal zoning for the past several months."

"This public hearing is being held to clarify the legalities involved and the town board wishes to hear from any citizen who might contribute constructively," Schneller explained.

"However, since much of the testimony pro and con has been

$4,528,000 Project

Ulster Sewer Vote on Saturday

project with voting to take place Saturday, Nov. 23 at Chambers School gymnasium, Morton Boulevard and Van Keuren Highway from 12 noon to 8 p.m.

The town's assessors will have the assessment rolls at a registration desk to check the eligibility of the voters. Printed ballots will be available for the referendum.

All qualified voters within the bounds of the sewer improvement area, who are property owners will be eligible to vote on the proposal the proposed improvement area embraces approximately 3.94 square miles and is generally bounded on the north by Leggs Mills Road, on the east by a natural drainage divide running generally parallel to and to the east of Route 9W, on the south by the city line and on the west by the Esopus Creek.

The project if approved will service 1,580 families. Specifications drawn by J. Kenneth Fraser and Associates of Rensselaer note the cost is based on an estimated total assessed valuation of $7.2 million by the time of the first year of operation.

Will Take 2 Years

If approved the project will take two years to build. It could possibly take one year before specifications are drawn to let the contracts out for bids.

Tax Plus Usage

The approximate tax rate for debt service to finance construction of the system will be $34.85 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. There will also be a usage charge of about $16.80 based upon water usage as reflected on each individual water meter. Each property owner will have the initial cost of connecting their home with the street sewer line.

In succeeding years the annual tax rate will decrease as the improvement area reduces its bonded indebtedness and as the total assessed valuation of the area increases. The annual usage rate will also decrease correspondingly as the number of sewer users increases.

There is expected to be state financial assistance for the project under the State Pure Waters Program enacted in 1965. A sum of $1,569,000 of the cost is eligible for state and federal aid which will total 60 per cent of the eligible amount, or $941,000. Credit for this amount has been considered in computing the annual costs to the property owners. Federal grants may be available, but can not be guaranteed at this time.

Annual operation and maintenance federal grants amounting to one-third of the annual cost of operation of a treatment plant can also be earned through excellence in operation. This could also lessen the annual cost.

The current population of the area is about 4,800 and is expected to reach 7,100 in 1980.

Ground Rules

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP) — Convicts at the Wyoming state penitentiary have staked out a golf green behind the prison walls and are taking up golf.

Warden Lenard Meacham has given his approval with one ground rule. Balls smacked over the prison wall are out of bounds—and the golfer is not permitted to hunt for them.

JULIA PALMER

6th in a series

An achiever, Julie has come up through the ranks at First Federal Savings and Loan Association beginning four years ago in September as a teller. She has been progressively promoted to Payroll Master and now CBO manager.

Born in Far Rockaway, Long Island, she completed her primary and secondary education in Nassau and New York City schools. While attending St. John's University, Queens, she met and married Arthur R. Palmer, who is a senior Lab Specialist, IBM in Kingston. She is the mother of three children. Mrs. William Brackett resides in New Haven, Connecticut while Sue and Arthur, Jr. live with their parents and attend Oteora Central School.

Always busy, active and interested in civic, religious and social projects Julie is affiliated with the Ulster County Chapter of the Association for Help of Retarded Children; the Oteora PTA; the Woodstock Country Club; and is currently serving as publicity chairman and a member of the Board of Directors of the Business & Professional Women of Ulster County. A congregant of St. John's Roman Catholic Church of Stony Hollow, she sings soprano with the choir which frequently airs over Radio Station WGHQ.

Whether skiing over the snows of the Swiss Alps or unsnarling a balance bug at the end of a bromo-blue Monday, Julie Palmer is ever smiling. She is always a reflection of a cool, quiet inner calm whether the hostess at home or the "boss" at CBO of First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

A music buff Julie relaxes by playing the piano or the violin. An active athlete she golfs, swims and skis. Winters the Palmers wander to Vermont, Austria, Canada, Switzerland or California . . . wherever the skiing is good.

Twelve years ago, the Palmers planned, designed and built their attractive two story Colonial home in West Hurley.

Disabled Workshop in 20th Year, Conceived by Area Trio in 1947

MID-HUDSON WORKSHOP — Three area men have assumed certain responsibilities for continuing progress of the Mid-Hudson Workshop. They are (L-R) Benjamin J. Van Wicker, public relations director; G. Russell Lozier, president and Alfred Hanson, managing director of the Workshop.

An idea conceived in 1947 by three area men interested in providing a means for people with certain physical handicaps, developed into the founding of the Mid-Hudson Workshop for the Disabled, Inc., which now completes 20 years of service. The three individuals are: Dause Bibby, former general manager of the Poughkeepsie IBM plant; Stephen Puff, director of the New York State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, in that city and Benjamin Van Wicker, executive secretary of the Mid-Hudson Industrial Association.

Workshop Officers

Officers of the Workshop are: G. Russell Lozier, president; Robert E. Estes, first vice president; Jack E. Spencer, second vice president; Robert E. Corliss, secretary; Henry B. Seaver, assistant secretary; Donald A. Moore, treasurer. The staff includes, Alfred Hanson, executive director, and Mrs. Margaret F. Rankin and Mrs. Linda Murphy.

The effort of Bibby, Puff and Van Wicker was directed toward establishing a place where the physically handicapped could find gainful employment through public and individual effort and appeal. The Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce arranged a dinner at the Hotel Campbell (now the Poughkeepsie Inn) in November 1947 to demonstrate how handicapped people could be trained and rehabilitated.

Early in 1948, the Poughkeepsie Kiwanis Club took over the sponsorship and raised $3500 for the initial operating expense from eight local manufacturing firms all of which have been repaid.

In 1948, an organization was set up and a Board of Directors elected representing a wide range of community leaders from industry, commerce, law, medicine, education, banking and from other local fields of endeavor. The original sponsors were requested to continue and seek out a suitable place to begin operations. After many locations were surveyed, the first shop was established in what is now Station WKIP and through the cooperation of the Nelson House Hotel Corporation, there was no charge for this first perfect location.

On Sept. 16, 1948, Mrs. Marion D. Coday was hired as managing director. The organization was incorporated in November 1948 and on Dec. 13, 1948, the Workshop opened with two physically handicapped employees and soon added two more, with a gradual increase for the next three years.

Larger Quarters Needed

In 1951, it was necessary to find larger quarters and in the spring of that year, with an expanded workshop to a complement of 34 people a move was made to a new shop at 912 Main Street in Arlington, The operation remained at the Arlington location until February, 1957, when it was determined to build a building that would accommodate future growing pains by having a facility that could be expanded without the necessity of routing all the machinery and people who had become part of the everyday operation.

The present location, at 212 Washington Street, Poughkeepsie, was decided on to accommodate the 53 employees in a modern 6600 square foot building which cost approximately $125,000, and which has since been amortized.

During the summer of 1964, a 1200 square foot addition was opened at a further cost of $44,000, which also has been amortized.

The founding managing director, Mrs. Marion D. Coday, retired on Nov. 30, 1964 and was succeeded by Alfred Hanson, who has a long record in local industry in machine shop practice, supervisory and management capacities.

The Workshop has contributed much to helping relieve the problems of the handicapped and since its inception in 1948, there have been 795 applications for employment of which 269 have been employed; 62 have been rehabilitated and have taken their place in the competitive labor market. Had it not been for the Workshop, these 269 handicapped people might have been wards of the taxpayers.

"It must be noted and emphasized that contrary to popular belief, the original idea that was stressed in 1947 still persists: The Mid-Hudson Workshop for the Disabled, Inc. is self-sustaining and does not receive any aid in any way from any federal, state, county, municipal or charitable organization or agency, nor is it affiliated with any similar organization. We do urge every possible support to those organizations that require and need help from government, where and when necessary," it was pointed out.

The 20-year experience of the Workshop has been a gratifying period to the many who have served without compensation on the Board of Directors and committees that have witnessed the satisfaction that has been earned by the employees who are handicapped by muscular dystrophy, arthritis, cerebral palsy, polio, diabetes, emphysema, multiple sclerosis, or who are cardiac, amputees, deaf or blind, and many other disabling conditions.

"While some of these deserving people have passed away, other have taken jobs in private business or industry. Some have married, others have moved out of the State. We have many who are still employed by the Workshop and a large number are registered and waiting for an opportunity to become part of the active group of employees when the Shop can obtain additional work from local business and industry. In the many fields of endeavor, they are capable of doing mechanical and electronic assembly, terminal crimping, collating, mail stuffing, soldering, salvage, operations and many other bench and production jobs."

"A grateful group should be helped so they can help themselves. The old adage that says 'No man stands as tall as when he stoops to help another,' a spokesman added.

Milady's Hand Mightier Than the Sword

LONDON (AP) — The vicar seized a sword and routed the housebreaker, but it was the vicar's wife in a nightgown and coat who caught up with the fleeing intruder, slapped his face and held him by the neck. The violence in the vicarage began with the sound of breaking glass late Saturday night, the Rev. Jack Dover Wellman said today. A former navy officer and air force chaplain, the vicar picked up a three-foot ceremonial sword, a family heirloom, and went to investigate. "In the Queen's name, I arrest you!" He shouted at the man he found in the garden. The man ducked from the sword and ran off, the vicar and his wife in pursuit.

The clergyman lost a bedroom slipper and fell behind, but his barefoot wife got her hands on the man after 200 yards.

"I was determined not to let him go," said Mrs. Wellman. "I kept my left arm tightly round his neck and beat him round the face with my right arm."

"I was roused and infuriated. An Englishman's home is his castle, and it's scandalous for people to try to break in. I think we should all have guns to protect ourselves."

"As I was saying to the bishop only on Friday, if we are going to preserve our society we must fight to the death."

Several neighbors were wakened by the commotion and helped hold the man for the police. He collapsed in the police station and was taken to a hospital.

The vicar said he had used the sword once before—to chase some burglars away from the vicarage three years ago.

Olive Board Approves the Budget and Truck Purchase

The Town of Olive board at its Nov. meeting adopted the proposed budget. The budget shows a total of $268,782 to be raised by taxes, an increase of $9,000 over last year.

Public hearing on the budget was held Oct. 22.

Road Superintendent Marcel Maier was authorized to proceed with specifications for the purchase of a much needed dump truck to replace the presently obsolete unit, ten years old.

Two letters of resignation were received by Town Clerk

Oliver R. Crawford from Constable Ross Barringer, and Deputy Town Clerk Frank Costabile.

Due to the heavy traffic at the intersection of Route 28 and Boice Road a portable blinker station will be in use to afford protection for the constable on duty. At this intersection the present street light will be transferred to a new location, providing better distribution.

H. Rank requested that the light removed at the intersection of Route 28 and upper Boiceville Road during reconstruction of Route 28 be replaced. The request was granted.

A letter was received by the board from residents of Bostock Road showing the need of repairs. At the present time the Highway Department is in the process of doing the work. Deerfield Road in the Lu-decke development at Boiceville, having met all town road specifications has been accepted and will receive town maintenance in the future.

The town constable car, presently equipped for local radio communication will be extended to encompass communication with the Ulster County Sheriff's department, by installing additional radio equipment, thus increasing the efficiency of the present constabulary service.

The planning board reactivation was again postponed to a later date.

Funds in the amounts of $2,574.57 and $7,794.77 from the General and Highway accounts were approved for payment.

The Voices in Paris:

First the Students and Now the Priests

PARIS (AP) — First it was the students. Now it's the Roman Catholic priests of France who are demanding a voice in running their own institutions, plus the eventual right to get married.

The aspirations of the priest movement are explained in a petition, or collective letter as they call it. The letter is addressed to the Church hierarchy in France, which has been sent copies.

More than 150 priests, mostly the young, had signed the letter by Wednesday. Some well known and experienced clergymen were among the signers.

While the letter is far weaker a gesture than the sit-in of Catholic priests in Washington, it is the second affirmation in five days of the old saying that the "Catholic Church in France is French first and Catholic second."

The first sign, last week was the Assembly of Bishops advising married couples to not follow the Pope's anticonception rules to the letter, but rather choose the least "bad thing" among conflicting duties.

Aside from getting married—maybe someday—the signing priests want to have outside jobs, regular salaries, which they say would make them responsible for their own support.

But first of all, they want a foundation for continuous dialogue, between themselves and their elders and superiors.

The letter said the priests are too dependent upon the present Church structure. They call this "insupportable," in that it prevents them from being responsible for their own lives.

Sharon Nagy Weds Earl Kirn Jr.

Miss Sharon Ann Nagy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nagy of 18 Hone Street, Kingston, exchanged nuptial vows with Al/c Earl Chester Kirn Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chester Kirn Sr., 236 Salem Street, Port Ewen, Saturday, Nov. 16, at St. Peter's Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Francis Brennan officiated at the double ring ceremony and celebrated the nuptial Mass. Miss Nan Goldrich, organist, accompanied Mrs. Betty Sass who sang traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of pink and white pompons decorated the altar and the bride placed a bouquet of white pompons and gladioli at the Blessed Mother's altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk ottoman gown in the empire style. The bodice, cuffed sleeves and chapel length train were enhanced with appliques of Venice lace. She wore a matching petal headpiece edged with seed pearls to which she shirred a silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and white pompons.

Mrs. Lorraine Husta of 79 Grandview Avenue, Kingston, was matron of honor. She wore an A-line gown of ruby red ottoman fashioned with appliques of Venice lace. Her headpiece was a crown of pluma and she carried a matching muf with a corsage of velvet flowers.

Attendants were Miss Joanne Zoda, Port Ewen; Miss Mary Ellen McTague, Kingston; Miss Carol Arnold, High Falls; Mrs. Teri VanSteenburgh, Kingston. Miss Judy Krum, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Flower girl was Miss Laurie Hoffay, cousin of the bride. All the gowns were styled identically to that of the honor attendant in azalea pink with the junior bridesmaid wearing ruby red. The matron of honor and junior bridesmaid carried dark pink muffs with light pink lilacs; the other attendants carried light pink muffs trimmed with dark pink lilacs.

Ronald Kirn of Port Ewen served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Frank Streigl, Port Ewen; Thomas Krum, cousin of the bride, Gloversville; William McGill, Lake Katrine; Eugene VanSteenburgh, Kingston; Albert Brink, Suitland, Md. Peter Nagy, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

After the wedding a reception for 150 guests was held at Alpine Restaurant, DeWitt Mills Road, Kingston.

For her wedding journey cross-country to San Jose, Calif., the bride wore a cranberry and white wool dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and was employed at New York Telephone Company, Kingston. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, is serving in the U.S. Air Force stationed in San Jose, Calif.

The couple will reside at San Jose, Calif.

B'nai B'rith Women Will Meet Nov. 20

Zephaniah Chapter, B'nai B'rith Women, held its monthly board meeting on Thursday, Nov. 14, at the home of Mrs. Harold Monashefsky, president. Mrs. Monashefsky announced B'nai B'rith Girls have collected and sent gifts to soldiers in Vietnam. The girls are also collecting paperback books for the veterans at Castle Point Hospital.

A chairman is needed to provide drivers for senior citizens one afternoon a week in order that they can meet at the Jewish Community Center. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Monashefsky.

It was discussed that since the Dolls for Democracy Program is so successful, Zephaniah Chapter should purchase the Jonas Salk doll. This would be in addition to the present dolls now being used: Abraham Lincoln, Eleanor Roosevelt, Marian Anderson, and John F. Kennedy.

The next regular meeting of Zephaniah Chapter will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 20, at 8 p.m. in the First Federal Savings Bank, 235 Fair Street. The program for the meeting will be a talk by several foreign students from State University College at New Paltz, discussing their respective countries. B'nai B'rith Girls will also hold a cake sale at this meeting.

Those attending the Board meeting were: The Mmes. Sam Barnovits, Elizabeth Eisen, Burton Feit, David Gally, Louis Klein, Harvey Kronick and Harold Monashefsky.

Marionette Show Will Be Presented Here; To Benefit Ulster Academy Scholarships

A delightful marionette show will be presented for area children at 11 a.m. Saturday at Community Theater, when the Berkeley Marionettes appear with the tale of "The Wonderful Well."

The performance will benefit the scholarship fund of Ulster Academy, the area's new independent secondary school. Tickets priced at $1 will be available at the door. Doors open at 10:30 a.m.

The story of "The Wonderful Well" is filled with action, color and suspense, and the Berkeley Marionettes, who have played to six million people in the last 38 years, are renowned for their plays' imaginative and educational content. The puppets are among the largest in use and the plays are real three-dimensional theater with all roles played by talented Dordick actors. One critic reviewing their performance noted, "This was not a mere puppet show. After a few moments the wooden actors became so real, I felt that if I pricked a puppet with a pin it would bleed."

Mrs. Milton Paige and Mrs. Joseph Conrad are co-chairmen of the benefit, aided by members' of the school's parents' group and all of Ulster Academy's students, who have participated in their scholarship fund activities by aiding with ticket sales. The appearance of the Berkeley Marionettes was

Helpful Hints

Horseradish sauce tastes delicious with cold sliced smoked tongue or ham. To make it, whip half a cup of heavy cream and add several tablespoons of well drained horseradish (the bottled variety) and salt to taste.

To make tomato cups to hold salad mixtures, cut each tomato almost through into half a dozen sections; separate the sections slightly and pile the salad mixture in the center.

When you need unsweetened applesauce to add to a cookie or cake batter, cook the apples in as little water as possible—a quarter cup will be enough for half a dozen medium apples so the sauce is on the thick side when you strain it.

A good recipe to remove discoloration from Teflonware is: 2 tablespoons baking soda, 1 cup water and ½-cup liquid chlorine bleach. Boil 10 minutes.

Enclosed Grandstand, Groom's Quarters

Million Dollar Face-Lift for the Mighty M

MONTICELLO — When Monticello Raceway opens for its 1969, probably next May 15, harness fans will be protected from the whimsical early spring Catskill weather by an enclosed grandstand.

The retractable, 18-section "giant window" is part of a comprehensive face-lifting project for the Mighty M costing more than $1 million and increasing the likelihood of a longer racing season.

In addition to the enclosure, the clubhouse will undergo a complete renovation and groom's quarters will be constructed.

The glass enclosure will be a first for a downstate (Metropolitan area) track, and will consist of 18 sections with three 10-by-20-foot window panels in each section, all made of tempered glass five-eighths of an inch thick.

The windows will be the largest ever made for such a project, extending to roof level, and will offer a completely unobstructed view when raised in good weather. The lifting mechanism will combine a series of counter-weights which will be channeled underground with electric motors.

At a press conference called to announce the expansion program Monday, Raceway President Leon Greenburg noted that although an opening prior to May 15 is unlikely at this time there is good reason to believe that the season can be extended to dovetail with the other Metropolitan tracks.

Roosevelt will close its fall meet on October 16 next year, with Yonkers re-opening the following night. "We hope," Greenburg said, "to fill in our schedule. With the new facilities I'd say mid-May to October 16, but at this posture it's highly speculative."

State Will Cooperate
He added, however, New York State Harness Racing Commission Chairman Robert Glasser has expressed willingness to cooperate with track officials on the matter.

Greenburg said the track administration is "still projecting" the dates for the 1969 racing season.

The construction of the retractable enclosure will be tied in with the installation of new heating and air ventilation systems, he said, and the project is targeted for an April completion date. If something should go wrong, he added, the "contractors have assured us the track could open before completion."

Greenburg said handle figures from the early and late stages of last year's season, excluding the peak summer vacation months, "dictate to us the justification for enlarging our racing season."

He cited a $318,000 norm for the post-Labor Day period, and an average nightly handle of $325,000 for May 16-July 4.

"You can attract better horses and stables if you can give them a long meet," Greenburg went on. "I envision better talent—there's only one secret to our success, a dedicated effort to give the public the best in racing and you can't beat good racing stock."

May Be Weekend Track
He also revealed the strong possibility that the facilities will be used "in the very near future as a weekend track" late in the year, possibly up until December 1.

Normally, he added, this sort of thing is a very expensive proposition, "but now, with these facilities, racing on Friday and Saturday nights could be very remunerative. Not next year, but the year after for sure."

Raceway directors are also studying the possibility of constructing a five-eighths of a mile track in place of the present half-mile hub.

It would be easier to attract the top two year olds with such a track, Greenburg pointed out, noting the success of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia.

The turns on a five-eighths of a mile track are flatter and the straightaways longer than the halfmile tracks, making it much easier for a horse to negotiate and producing times that are about two seconds faster.

Hawks Place 3 On Sunyac

BUFFALO — State University dinuju was selected for the second year in a row and sophomore Bobby Hippy and senior Pete Kane were first time selections.

The list of repeating linemen was headed by Cortland superstar Era Magisa, who was instrumental in pinning a 4-3 double overtime loss on the Hawks in their opening game and received the all-league nod for the third year in a row.

Other repeating linemen included Buffalo's Guy Bonfiglio, Plattsburgh's Bill Garvey and Cortland's Bob Leahy, all for the second time.

League champion Brockport led the list with five selections, including linemen Ray Miller and Bob Ketchum and backs Mike Greco (who hails from Rhinebeck), Ron Wheeler and Tom William.

Lineman Paul Parker, goalie Randy Hawkins and back Rich Keegan completed the Plattsburgh delegation, and Randy Smith and Paul Meyer made the team from Buffalo.

Cortland's Peter Pepper, William Hewson from Geneseo, and Potsdam's Tony Cardamone completed the list of backs and Jeff Loesch of Oswego was the second goalie selection to round out the 22 member team.

The selections were made by conference coaches and players. Hippy led the Hawks in scoring this year, potting 16 with six of six from the penalty line, and Mbadinju had eight.

Kane, a standout lineman last year, was converted to center fullback to add more stability to the New Plattsburgh defense.

Final standings in the SUNYAC:

Team	W	L	T
Plattsburgh	5	1	0
Buffalo	4	2	0
Cortland	4	2	0
New Paltz	3	2	1
Potsdam	3	3	0
Geneseo	2	4	1
Oswego	1	4	1
Oneonta	0	4	2

It's Press, Press and Press For KHS Cagers This Season

By DENNIS R. CARO
(Freeman Sports Staff)
"Press, Press, Press and Press Some More. There are not that many GOOD ball handlers."

The signs in Kingston High school basketball coach Jack Gilligan's office reflect the spirit of it he tries to instill in his players. Most of them say "Win."

Gilligan has had DUSO championship teams back to back, 0 and last year's squad might have been his career best. This year, with Newburgh fielding a powerhouse, the odds for a third straight title are not that good, but the Maroons are going to be in there fighting all the way—it's the only way they coach knows how to play.

All four of last season's regular starters were either first or second string all-league selections, and only one of them backcourt ace Ken Gilligan, is back.

Bruce Gilligan, the coach's other standout son is down at Kings College on a basketball scholarship after popping for a 21 point per game average last year. Ray Lindhorst will be playing for Ulster County Community College and Andy Murphy is on scholarship at Siena College in Loudonville.

The younger Gilligan, who averaged 15 points a game last year, returns as the backcourt bulwark and gives his father a firm nucleus along with six-foot-seven Ted Wood and six-foot-four inch Werner Kohn who alternated in starting roles a year ago.

Gene Bruno, a high jumping six-foot corner man who saw limited action looks promising. Gilligan said, but the fifth slot is still up in the air.

Willis Locke, a five-eleven backcourt reserve, Jon Yaple, who played guard on the junior varsity squad two years ago, and six-foot-five inch Gary Matthews should all see action, he said, noting that the personnel in the game at a given time would determine the team's offensive style.

Gilligan said when the taller Matthews is out on the court he would probably go with a "double stack" offense using only one backcourt man rather than the normal 3-2 "shell."

"We've lost a little of the speed we had last year," he said, and we've gained some height. The differences might necessitate a few little changes in style of play, but I'll know better about that after a few scrimmages.

The Maroons open with a scrimmage against Beacon Friday afternoon and then face Roy C. Ketcham High School of Wappingers Falls on Nov. 26. The final pair of scrimmage games are Nov. 29 and 30 against defending New York City Champions Holy Cross.

"That final pair should tell us the story," Gilligan said. "If we can hold our own against a team like Holy Cross we should have a fairly successful season."

Loures In Opener
Kingston hosts Our Lady of Lourdes in the season opener Dec. 4, but the first league game isn't until Jan. 10 against Middletown. "All in all, he said, 'it's a pretty rough schedule.'"

Aside from Lourdes, (it's always nice to start the season with a win), Poughkeepsie looks like the toughest club in the Dutchess County Scholastic League and Valley Central the powerhouse in the Orange County League.

Mohonnosson of Schenectady and New Hartford of Ulster, two of the teams in the Oneonta Christmas Tournament, are also supposed to be top notch clubs.

The schedule:

Date	Team	Home/Away
Dec. 4	Our Lady of Lourdes	Home
Dec. 10	Poughkeepsie	Away
Dec. 13	Valley Central	Away
Dec. 17	Arlington	Away
Dec. 27-28	Oneonta Tourney	Home
Jan. 7	Poughkeepsie	Home
Jan. 10	Middletown	Home
Jan. 14	Monticello	Away
Jan. 17	Newburgh	Home
Jan. 21	Our Lady of Lourdes	Away
Jan. 21	Port Jervis	Away
Feb. 4	Arlington	Home

Aftermath of Heidi

NBC Blames Foulup

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Broadcasting Company (NBC) said Monday it had issued specific orders to continue Sunday's New York Oakland football game to its conclusion, but that "communication difficulties and operating errors prevented these orders from being carried out."

NBC, in a statement released Monday, said it did not envision such a long game and that scheduling had been aimed to cancel the post-game scoreboard program in order to run "Heidi," a children's program.

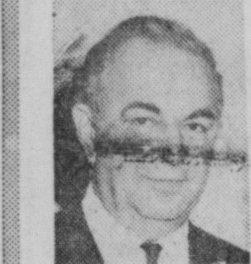

NBC said that when it became apparent that the game would not end by 7 p.m. EST, the orders were issued to carry the game to its conclusion. The station said the orders were not received in time.

The telecast was interrupted with only 50 seconds remaining with New York leading 32-29. Oakland, however, scored two touchdowns in less than a minute to win 43-32. NBC was flooded with phone calls when the network cut away from the game telecast to the children's movie.

TIANO'S TOPICS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

However you try to rationalize that celebrated NBC Sunday TV fiasco, it was the millions of football fans across the country who got a royal rooking.

Those extra times out that accrue $75,000 a spot for NFL action on WCBZ-TV and an undisclosed amount for AFL on NBC (probably $25,000) finally caught up with the Madison Avenue hucksters who control professional sports today.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle will protest to the contrary, but the boys in charcoal grey suits really run the show when it comes to determining what does or doesn't appear on your homestead boob tube.

They reaped a nationwide harvest of resentment and shame in shutting off probably the most fantastic 46 seconds in professional football history. That may be a slight exaggeration, but it will do until something better comes along. Whatever they reaped, they deserved.

The Pulitzer Prize committee for literature doesn't have to look any further than the ivory towers of NBC for its 1969 winner.

Certainly, NBC President Julius Goodman's reaction to Sunday's national commotion should earn for him a measure of immortality in American letters.

"I missed seeing the game as much as anyone else," he protested. We're stuck with the feeling that Mr. Goodman did not protest enough and NBC will be haunted by the incident for a long time to come.

But let's now delude ourselves, fans. Business will go on as usual.

IAN ROBERTSON, the durable Scot who has been Wiltwyck Country Club pro these many years, is not about to retire, next year or the following year, he informs. "Frankly, I haven't even given it a thought," said Scotty laying to rest area speculation that he was about to retire to his pipe and slippers in a cozy Florida town. "I feel good and am looking ahead to several more years on the links," he added. . . . Two prominent baseball figures ready to grace the annual Old Timers Baseball Association luncheon, if the date is suitable, are Jim Konstanty, former Philadelphia Phillies relief whiz and now athletic director at Hartwick College (Oneonta) and Benny Boremann, a city pro basketball immortal, and former chief eastern scout for the Minnesota Twins organization. . . . Mike Ferraro is expected from Florida for the Christmas vacation.

This Crazy Season

Maroon Game Is On-Maybe

By DENNIS R. CARO
(Freeman Sports Staff)

The whimsical pre-winter weather is playing havoc with the DUSO football schedule this fall, havoc that is making the "Fighting Maroons" chances for their first league title since 1958 look better and better.

The ill-fated contest between Port Jervis and Newburgh Free Academy, which had been re-scheduled for 2:00 this afternoon is now tentatively on for 1:30 Saturday afternoon, which gives the Goldbacks only four full days of rest before their traditional Thanksgiving Day contest with Kingston.

The Maroons' game with Middletown is still on for 1:30 Wednesday afternoon, and Kingston High School Athletic Director Bill Hurley said today that any cancelling would not come before 9:00 Wednesday morning when he meets Middletown's AD Ed Rodiek at the Section 9 conference.

"Middletown has the best field in the league," Hurley said. "Football is the only thing they use it for and it should be in pretty good shape, especially if Wednesday is another day like today."

Newburgh's field, however, is the worst in the league, and if the groundskeepers are able to get it into shape by Saturday the shape it would be in for the Thanksgiving Day game the following Thursday would be uncertain to say the least.

Offered Dietz Site
"At this point," Hurley said, "I hear it still has the ruts the heavy equipment made when the snow was removed. I've offered to play the game at Dietz Stadium, but I doubt that they'll accept."

The forced Newburgh-Port cancellation, which was actually requested by the Port Jervis Board of Education on the grounds that a weekday afternoon game is unfair to the fans, puts both clubs at a definite disadvantage against their traditional rivals.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Arthur J. Venezia, who is president of the DUSO League, said Monday he would try and contact Rodiek this morning to try to convince him that the Middletown-Kingston game should also be postponed until Saturday.

"Then," Venezia said, "although it won't be an ideal situation," all four teams will be in the same position going into the Thanksgiving Day games."

Explaining why he was against playing the game in the middle of the week even if the Newburgh field were ready, Venezia said "a football game is meant for everybody, the adults in the community and probably most of all the students. To have the game at 2 in the afternoon when we don't get out of school until 3:09 would mean that only the players and a handful of adults, including myself, would be able to see the game and root for the team."

He noted that there would have been a busing problem. Opposes Schedule Change Hurley, however, took another tack, indicating that he would be firmly opposed to any schedule change at this point. "I don't think it's fair to the players to have two games so close together," he said. "If circumstances force Newburgh and Port Jervis into that sort of situation, it may be unavoidable, but it endangers the safety of their teams."

"I don't want to put our boys into the position of having to play two really hard-nosed football games so close together." Agreeing that football fans also deserve some consideration in a case like this, he noted that the buses that were originally scheduled to go down to Middletown last Saturday would be going tomorrow and those students who had signed up for them would be let out of school early to see the game.

"There are presently three buses," Hurley said, "and there is a good possibility for more. Right now we're trying to see if we can fill up the cheerleaders' bus."

The additional four days of rest the Maroons have had will put them in a little better shape for the Middletown contest, but Monday Frank Modica said improvement in the cases of his three injured starters has been negligible.

Modica said Bobby Clausi, a 240 pound tackle, is still favoring his right leg after a thigh injury kicking extra points in practice two weeks ago. "He'll probably play, but John Berardi (a standout two-way lineman who suffered a severe ankle sprain against Our Lady of Lourdes) is still very doubtful."

Joe Holland, the offensive right end who serves as quarterback Mike Hoffman's prime target on the long bomb, figures to be lost for the season with a serious ankle injury Modica added.

Set Guidelines In Hearing on Dancer's Image

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Kentucky Racing Commission promised to issue a set of guidelines today concerning testimony that can be considered at its current hearing on the disqualification of Dancer's Image.

At issue are a series of mysterious post-Derby incidents during which an attempt was made "to salt" the feed and oaths of Peter Fuller's colt.

The issue was raised by one of Fuller's attorneys, Arthur Grafton, who said that if such testimony were submitted "it would open up a wide field of speculation."

Counsel for the racing commission contends these incidents are closely tied to the current proceedings. The commission, which opened its hearing Monday is considering Fuller's appeal of a May 15 ruling by Churchill Downs stewards. They stripped Dancer's Image of his Derby victory on grounds of a urinalysis taken after the Derby that showed traces of Phenylbutazone.

The medication is used to counter inflammation of joints and is not prohibited in Kentucky if it is discontinued long enough before a race so that its presence cannot be detected chemically.

Fuller, a wealthy Boston auto dealer, told the commission that his horse won the Derby on his own, that he believed an error had been made somewhere.

He further testified that the drug had been administered twice to Dancer's Image—on the Sunday before the Derby and again in June when the colt was shipped to his farm in New Hampshire.

Fuller said on both occasions the horse reacted violently, indicating that he was allergic to the medicine.

"There was no reaction after the Derby," he said.

Orange Gets Penn State-Kansas Top 10 Teams Go A Bowling

By CHARLES RICHARDS
UPI Sports Writer

Four New Year's Day bowls will match members of the nation's top 10 football teams, it appeared today, from commitments extended and accepted Monday—and the probably outcome of games left to play.

The probable pairings are Southern California (8-0) and No. 2 Ohio State (8-0) or No. 4 Michigan (8-1) in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; third-ranked Penn State (8-0) and sixth-ranked Kansas (8-1) in the Orange Bowl at Miami; fifth-ranked Georgia (7-0-2) and ninth-ranked Arkansas (8-1) in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans; and seventh-ranked Texas (7-1-1) and eighth-ranked Tennessee (6-1-1) in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

A pair of teams—Texas Tech and Texas A&M—could change that lineup in games this Saturday and Thanksgiving Day.

Kansas Vs. Penn State
Formal invitations were extended by the Orange Bowl to Kansas and Penn State, and they were promptly accepted.

Georgia and Tennessee also agreed to requests to play in the Sugar and Cotton bowls, respectively.

Fourteenth-ranked Oklahoma and 19th-ranked Southern Methodist voted to accept invitations to participate in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston Dec. 31. Auburn agreed to go to the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 28, and Missouri gave its approval to play in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 28.

Southern California has clinched the Pacific Eight representation in the Rose Bowl but, although Ohio State is favored for the Big Ten spot opposite the Trojans, OSU first must get by Michigan Saturday. Should Michigan win, it would go to Pasadena.

The Southwest Conference champion will meet Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl, and the runnerup has been tabbed the opponent of Georgia in the Sugar Bowl, but the SWC title is still up for grabs.

Texas Cotton Favorite
Texas is favored to defeat Texas A&M Thanksgiving Day and thereby wrap up the Cotton Bowl host position, with the Sugar Bowl representative coming from the winner of the Arkansas-Texas Tech game in Lubbock, Tex., Saturday.

But should Texas A&M's Aggies win in the traditional holiday clash, the Arkansas-Texas Tech victor would go to Dallas, and either the loser or Texas to New Orleans.

Sun Bowl officials listed Wyoming and Arizona State as the teams being given most prominent consideration as an opponent for Georgia.

Other bowls still to be filled are the Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 14, and the Peach Bowl at Atlanta, Ga.

Smaller bowls are the Pecan, Camellia, Mineral Water and Tangerine. Ohio University has accepted one spot in the Tangerine Bowl and North Dakota State has agreed to play in the Pecan Bowl.

Trojans Going Down to Wire

NEW YORK (UPI)—Southern California's bid for a second consecutive national championship looks like it will go down to the wire.

The Trojans remained unbeaten in eight games Saturday by knocking off Oregon State, 17-13. The victory helped Southern Cal gain 27 first-place votes and 338 points from the 35-member United Press International Board of Coaches today to retain its No. 1 ranking.

But the remainder of the top five also remained in contention. Ohio State held on to No. 2, beating Iowa, 33-27, for its eighth victory without defeat, and Penn State, also 8-0, held its No. 3 ranking by ripping Maryland 57-13.

Michigan, Georgia Win
Michigan maintained fourth by beating Wisconsin, 34-9, while Georgia held on to fifth by downing Auburn, 17-3.

Kansas moved up to No. 6, with Texas, Tennessee, Arkansas and Notre Dame completing the top 10.

Houston was 11th, with Oregon State 12th and Missouri dropping to 13th. Oklahoma's second straight upset victory boosted the Sooners up to No. 14, while Alabama surged to 15th by beating Miami (Fla.).

Purdue was ranked 16th, followed by a pair of unbeaten, Ohio University (9-0) and Yale (8-0), with Southern Methodist and Minnesota tying for 19th.

Southern Cal, getting last-quarter heroics from the great O.J. Simpson, tripped up Oregon State to take the lead in the Pacific Eight Conference and practically cinch a Rose Bowl berth.

Buckeyes Possible Contenders
Ohio State and Michigan will play for the role of opponent to the Trojans, with an Ohio State victory possibly meaning a good shot at No. 1. Southern California must play cross-town rival UCLA and Notre Dame in its last two games. A loss to either of the two would open the way for Ohio State.

Penn State also has a strong outside shot at the national championship. The Nittany Lions, scheduled to face Kansas in the Orange Bowl, would have to parlay an Ohio State loss to Michigan with a Southern Cal Auburn.

Carrier Is Heading For 3-Point Record

By United Press International

The Kentucky Colonels think it's only a matter of time before Darel Carrier breaks the American Basketball Association's record for three-point field goals in one game.

Carrier scored seven three-pointers in a game for the second time in less than two weeks Monday night when his 192 53 points led the Colonels to a 99-88 win over the New Orleans Buccaneers in the ABA's other Monday night game. The Mavericks led 47-42 at halftime and had the game under control except for a brief spell in the third period when the Buccaneers went ahead 66-64.

Jimmy Jones of New Orleans made his 35th consecutive free throw in the second period, setting an ABA record.

to one point on Don Sidle's goal with 30 seconds to go but the Colonels got control of the ball and held it for the last 17 seconds of the game. Carrier made nine regular field goals, in addition to his seven three-pointers, and was 14-for-14 from the foul line.

Willie Somerset sank 19 of 19 free throws and scored 38 points to lead the Houston Mavericks to a 99-88 win over the New Orleans Buccaneers in the ABA's other Monday night game. The Mavericks led 47-42 at halftime and had the game under control except for a brief spell in the third period when the Buccaneers went ahead 66-64.

Jimmy Jones of New Orleans made his 35th consecutive free throw in the second period, setting an ABA record.

Your first thought is that Chevy is a good looking pickup...

Here are some second thoughts:

work truck

second car

camper

We could add hobby hauler to the list. Chevy trucks are great for rock hounding. Collecting antiques. Etcetera.

The point is: They're as versatile as anything on the road. Or off. Especially, four-wheel drive versions. They go anywhere.

Wherever you go, you go in style. Sleek front end features a new aluminum grille. In back, there's a new 8 1/2-ft. box on some models. Great for big campers.

Great under the hood, too. Six or V8. Standard on V8 models is a big 307 cubic-incher.

Under the rugged chassis, coil springs take care of bumps. Inside, thick foam seats take care of you.

There's a lot more. And more you can order. Like: power steering and air conditioning. It all adds up to a good deal any way you look at it. See your Chevrolet dealer for all the facts and the good word on low price.

Bakes Longest Loaf

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — The local baker in the small town of Khakone claims a world record for the longest loaf of bread.

He is the second New Zealand baker in three months to make such a claim.

John T. Gould's masterpiece was turned out of his oven at 66 feet 1 inch.

The record attempt was made to raise funds for the local baby-care society. The loaf was auctioned for 20 New Zealand dollars ($20.00 U.S.), then cut into pieces and sold for a total of 63 New Zealand dollars ($70.50 U.S.) for the society.

For the record, the loaf contained: 7 pounds of yeast, 10 pounds of flour, 2 pounds of salt, 4 pounds of gluten, 21 pounds of fat. It was baked in nine-foot sections—each taking half an hour.

Leone resigned today, plunging Italy into a political crisis. Without its Socialist partner, the coalition government of the 23-man cabinet, which took office June 24, was unable to push reform legislation through a hostile parliament to solve the nation's labor and education problems.

The power vacuum led to a resignation was designed to unseat the ruling Christian Democratic party and its railroadmen, teachers and civil servants.

Diet Is Blamed Why Fat Cats Don't Catch Rats

TOKYO (UPI)—Japanese cats are not catching rats these days because they are short-winded, diabetic and have high blood pressure.

That is the grim diagnosis of Dr. Shiro Nakagawa, director of the Ueno Zoo Hospital, who told UPI today there are reports from northern Japan that some big rats recently have been observed chasing cats.

Nakagawa puts the blame on diet. He said too much good food, particularly high-protein meat, has made cats fat, slow, soft and overcivilized. Satiated cats, he explained, are just not going to chase rats.

Fat cats often have a lot of cholesterol in their blood, said Nakagawa, a veterinarian.

"A cat in this condition becomes short of wind if he chases a rat," said the doctor. Compounding the problem of overeating, Nakagawa said cats do not get enough exercise.

"Overeating and lack of exercise is actually causing diabetes and high blood pressure in cats," he said.

If you want your cat to be healthy, he advised, don't permit him to doze all day in the living room turning calories into fat.

For cat owners who want to awaken the rat-chasing instinct in their pets, Nakagawa advises feeding cats less meat.

"Keep them hungry and they'll go after the rats," he said.

Predicts Asian Flu Epidemic, Claims Vaccine Very Plentiful

By WILLIAM B. MEAD
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. William B. Mead, U.S. Surgeon General, said today the nation may face this winter a "real epidemic" of a new Asian flu for which vaccine production is just getting under way.

But Stewart said the new bug is not much of a health hazard for most people. He said he was satisfied with the drug industry's target vaccine production of 17.5 million doses, which doctors have been asked to reserve for elderly and chronically ill patients.

"It's very much like what one would expect with the flu that we get every year," Stewart said of the new strain. "People who get it feel miserable, and then in two or three or four days it's over, except you may have a kind of lassitude for a while."

The difference this year, Stewart said in an interview, is that the new flu bug differs enough from the common varieties that previous immunizations rarely affect it and thus "more people are susceptible to it."

"If this follows the usual pattern, we should have a few outbreaks from now through December and then in January have a real epidemic," Stewart said.

He said the 17.5 million doses being rushed by drug firms is "probably about the right level," although 30 million Americans fall into the group of elderly or chronically ill persons for whom the vaccine is recommended. Many people spurn flu shots whether they need them or not, Public Health Service spokesmen said.

"We should be licensing the first batch of vaccine toward the end of this month," Stewart said. "Then it (production) will climb through December. There isn't any way of accelerating it."

After inoculation, two weeks lapse before the person is immunized.

"We've had no reports of death from the influenza," Stewart said. "What we're concerned about is the people we call high risk groups, where the results of it (flu) are likely to lead to complications."

An estimated 60,000 persons died in a 1957 Asian flu epidemic, nearly all of them were from the "high risk groups" of the aged, infirm and chronically ill. Stewart said flu itself rarely kills but can lead to pneumonia or other complications if a person is susceptible.

Computer Seen Future Aid To Stop Car Theft Rings

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Within

two years a computer will prevent any recurrence of steal-to-order car theft rings similar to the operation recently uncovered in Queens, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Vincent L. Tofany said Monday.

Tofany, speaking at a news conference, discussed the role of his department played in a Queens County grand jury investigation of the alleged car-stealing ring.

The commissioner noted that the system would eliminate the possibility of anyone registering and obtaining a license for an automobile stolen in New York State.

The grand jury probe unveiled an operation in which a customer orders an automobile. The car then is stolen in New York and fitted with a matching, stolen Massachusetts registration, the ring supposedly nets $1.5 million a year.

Tofany said the computer has aided Queens District Attorney Thomas J. Mackell in tracking down 84 Cadillacs stolen and resold in New York State.

The computer simply compared New York and Massachusetts registration tapes. Some of the cars were legitimately registered. The others were stolen.

The preventive system will be complete in two years. Tofany said, when the computer will compare three items: the vehicle identification number, found on the engine and the car door; a list of stolen car registrations, and a list of previous owners.

Tofany added that the system will be effective only within the state, at least until all states adopt a similar technique.

Victim Identified

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—

A man killed Saturday in a traffic accident in nearby Rotterdam was identified Monday as Peter C. Tuck, 25, of Buffalo.

Police said Tuck was killed when the garbage truck in which he was riding overturned on Guildland Avenue. The truckdriver told police he knew Tuck by sight but not by name.

The identification was established through fingerprints.

Unity Dick Theme; Liaison Is Key

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP)—

President-elect Richard M. Nixon, relaxing today in island solitude, intends to make unity in a divided nation a keynote theme of his Republican administration. But the plans for achieving this aim are more methodical than dramatic.

One Word

The most important single thread in this effort is summed up in one word: communication. Nixon stressed it constantly in the more philosophical speeches of his campaign. Now he is considering how best to attain it.

Nixon was resting today on a small, privately owned island in the Bahamas. He sunned himself and read in privacy on Mermaid Beach in the Grand Cay group of the Bahama Islands, 140 miles northeast of Key Biscayne.

Nixon flew there Monday by Coast Guard helicopter, with no advance announcement, accompanied only by his friend, C. G. Rebozo, and his Secret Service guards. He spent the night on the island, owned by Robert Abplanalp, a Bronxville, N.Y., businessman.

When he returns to work on the transition of government, Nixon is expected to have more meetings in a unity-seeking pattern he already has set, with leaders from various segments of American society.

He held such sessions in New York Friday, meeting with a businessman, Frederick Keppel, then a union president, George Meany, then a Negro leader, Whitney Young of the national Urban League.

His inaugural address on Jan. 20 is expected to stress the unity quest. The first broad outlines of that speech are taking shape as Nixon and a handful of aides relax in the sun.

Unification Effort

Nixon also sees communication through the press, and directly to the nation through television, as important elements in the unification effort.

He is pondering now the best manner in which to deal with the news media, has promised an open administration and one in which policymakers will be accessible for public statements. He has sought out the opinions of newsmen on this phase of his planning.

The national unity effort also is a factor in his consideration of selections to the Cabinet. It will, Nixon has pledged, include Democrats.

Nixon aides indicate that the effort to make Cabinet choices which will enhance a sense of unity accounts for the moratorium on appointments outside the immediate White House staff.

Nixon reportedly wants the men who can help allay unrest in the nation, and wants plenty of time to seek them out. He therefore announced at the outset that no Cabinet choices would be revealed before Dec. 5.

Scott Heads U.S. Grange

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) — The

National Grange has its first new leader in 18 years. John W. Scott of Harrisburg, Pa., was chosen Monday by the Grange's 102nd annual convention here.

Scott, 51, has been serving as national secretary of the farm group. He served six years as master of the Pennsylvania Grange and is a member of the Pennsylvania State University advisory committee and the executive committee of the Pennsylvania Council of Farm Organizations.

He is a director of the Farmers and Traders Life Insurance Co. and the National Grange Mutual Insurance Co.

Scott replaces Herschel D. Newsom, who resigned last week as master.

Verti Was Backing

In the report of a personal injury accident in Hurley Sunday it was incorrectly stated in yesterday's edition that a car driven by Daniel J. Coleman of Rt. 3, Kingston was backing out of a driveway when in collision with a vehicle operated by Thomas E. Verti. Actually the Verti car was backing out of a driveway, according to State Police reports.

Diana Pleads For Tolerance, Gets Big Hand

LONDON (AP) — American pop star Diana Ross injected a plea for tolerance into the annual royal performance at the Palladium Monday night and got a big hand from the royal family. Several critics were less enthusiastic.

Diana, the Detroit girl who leads the Supremes, paused in an emotional performance of "There's a Place for Us" from "West Side Story" and spoke to the audience:

"A place for all of us—black and white, Jew and gentile, Catholic and Protestant."

"Such was the world of Martin Luther King and his ideal."

"If we keep this in mind, then we can carry on his work."

Then she finished the song, and applause rang through the theater, led by Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon. In the royal box with them were Queen Mother Elizabeth, Prince Charles and 18-year-old Princess Anne.

Don Short of the Daily Mirror commented: "The colored Supremes had obviously planned it as a moment of high drama. But the impact was lost. They got the coolest reception of the night."

The Guardian's Derek Malcolm said it was "a rather mawkish tribute which seemed inappropriate for the occasion." He added that the Supremes "never gave of their very considerable best."

Nashville Man Set for Post With Nixon

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Nixon administration post will go today to William E. Timmons, administrative assistant to Rep. William E. Brock, R-Tenn., the Nashville Tennessean said.

The Nashville newspaper said Timmons, a veteran of Republican politics, will be named a special assistant to President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Edmund Willingham, Tennessee Washington correspondent, said in a copyright story that Timmons will assist Bryce Harlow, in charge of congressional relations for the Nixon administration.

Willingham said Timmons will be in charge of relations between the new administration and the House of Representatives.

Timmons was reported to be in New York, where he would remain until the new administration shifts its operations to Washington.

Timmons was an aide to Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., from 1955 to 1961. In 1962, while executive secretary of the Republican party in Hamilton County, Tenn., he managed Brock's successful election campaign and has worked since then as administrative assistant to the Chattanooga congressman.

Chemical Truck Is Overturned; Evacuate Many

PALISADES, N.Y. (AP) — Hundreds of persons were evacuated for six hours Monday after a tank truck carrying 3,000 gallons of a chemical that emits deadly fumes when mixed with water skidded and overturned.

John Lovett, Orangeburg Town supervisor, declared the state of emergency from 12:40 p.m. to 6:35 p.m. for half-mile area surrounding the accident site at Rockland Road and Route 9W.

About 200 adults were evacuated from homes, 355 children were taken from the Sparkill Elementary School and a restaurant was cleared of patrons while police pumped the phosphorus trichloride from the truck.

The truck was owned by the Coastal Tank Lines of York, Pa. The driver, Charles Fout, 32, of Cannelton, W. Va., was not injured. After the tank was emptied the truck was towed away.

Dear Abby

Worried About Her Hubby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman in this neighborhood who is getting on all our nerves. She's a widow in her late fifties, and she is all the time asking our husbands to do things for her. She is well off enough to hire things done, but she seems to prefer calling husbands. It can be anything from starting her car to getting her cat off the roof.

My husband is 62, but he still has a roving eye, so yesterday when this widow called him to get her cat off her roof, he just about split himself getting his ladder and going down there. He must have been gone an hour.

When he came back, I asked him what took him so long and he said, "She invited me in for coffee." Abby, do you think they were drinking coffee all that time?

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: He's your husband, Lady. Could he get a cat off the roof, drink a cup of coffee, and justify your suspicions in one hour?

DEAR ABBY: Is there any such thing as a haunted house? My father left this house to me, and it's been standing empty for nearly 10 years because people say it's haunted and nobody wants to live in it.

Maybe if you say in your column that it's just a lot of talk it will do some good. It's a good house and it's not falling down or anything.

DEAR HAVING TROUBLE: There is no such thing as a haunted house, but my merely making that statement won't help. Fix the place up, and give it a new look, otherwise you won't stand a ghost of a chance of selling it.

DEAR ABBY: I would be very grateful for any advice you or any of your readers could give me.

I have a wonderful husband and two lovely children. My problem is with my daughter, age 8.

She is now in the second grade and has always liked school, until the last month or so. Since then she has said that her friends didn't "like" her any more.

Every day it's the same story: She gets up complaining that she's "sick" and wants to stay home. Then when I make her ready for school she cries and says she doesn't want to go because nobody "likes" her.

Abby, it breaks my heart to send a child to school crying, but what can I do? I try to reassure her, but it does no good. By the time she's out of sight I'm in tears, too.

Is there something I should do? Or should I let it go?

UPSET MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: When a child suddenly feels friendless, disliked, and unwanted at school, there is a reason. Make it your business to find out why. Spend as much time with your daughter as possible in order to and grab everything that looks make her feel comfortable good to them.

with you, and without prying. Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal confide in you. If she doesn't reveal her problem, consult with her teacher. Perhaps she will have a clue. If that fails, and your daughter continues to dread school, seek professional help. But don't let it go.

CONFIDENTIAL TO L. L. OF PHILLY: Yes, sex is "natural." But so is eating. And civilized people control their appetites. They don't walk into a bakery

tenebrous (TEN-e-brus) dark; gloomy

The sad-looking bartender, a man whose tenebrous moods did little to cheer up his customers, was staring out the window, a faraway look in his eye. Looking overhead at the tenebrous clouds that were starting to form, the two swimmers decided to leave the pool and go home. Observing the tenebrous walls of the apartment's cellar, the young housewife wondered how the superintendent could find anything in such a dark atmosphere.

Bridge Finesse Offers Best Chance

By Oswald and James Jacoby

NORTH (D) ♠ 1093 ♣ J5 ♦ A10876 ♠ A2

WEST ♠ 752 ♣ K973 ♦ K3 ♠ K943

EAST ♠ AK8 ♣ Q10864 ♦ 954 ♠ 107

SOUTH ♠ QJ64 ♣ A2 ♦ J2 ♠ QJ865

Neither vulnerable. West North East South. 1♦ Pass 2♣ Pass 2♦ Pass 3NT. Pass Pass. Opening lead—♥3.

Today's hand appears in George Coffin's ABC of card playing technique under "F for Finesse."

South's 22 high card point game contract is not a good one. He might well have dropped the bidding at two diamonds and North really should have bid three diamonds instead of three no-trump but South finds himself at three no-trump and it is up to him to try to make it.

He starts by playing dummy's jack of hearts at trick one. This does no good since East produces the queen. He lets the queen hold. Sometimes an opponent is nice enough to try a second suit. As a matter of fact, East does lead his king of spades but this doesn't help South one bit because East's next play is a heart.

South is in with the ace of hearts and if he goes after the diamonds right away, South will wind up with only eight tricks since the best he can do will be to make six diamonds and two aces.

South must take the club finesse before attacking diamonds. He leads the queen of clubs. If West covers, South comes back to his hand with the jack; if West ducks, South is still in his hand. Now he can try the diamond finesse and, since that works also, he will have his nine tricks.

South's play was a desperate one. He needed two successful finesses and if either went wrong he would be down several tricks at three no-trump but it is mighty good policy to take almost any risk at all in order to make an undoubted contract. Certainly a one-in-four chance is worth taking, and the chance that two finesses will work is one in four.

Rick Du Brow

Astin Effort Could Pay Off

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — John Astin has just spent $37,000 very well. He made a movie. He produced it, wrote it, directed it and starred in it. And when the industry gets a look at it, new doors are going to open for the former star of the ABC-TV series "I'm Dickens, He's Fenster" and "The Addams Family."

None of this is really a surprise to many persons who have come into contact with Astin over the years in Hollywood. It was just a matter of time before he made the move to command his own films, and before he made a bid for prominence in the larger movie town scene.

In "I'm Dickens, He's Fenster"—a fine comedy which costarred Marty Ingels—Astin revealed the gifts of a genuine humorist, more than a mere laugh-getter. In "The Addams Family," he was highly reminiscent of the Ernie Kovacs combination of introspective humor, restlessness, a sardonic yet compassionate view of the world—and a private sort of zaniness. Try as he might, he could not conceal a deep intelligence, and this marked him as a man to watch.

Thus it was also no particular surprise when Astin went on to movie roles and handled them with ease and aplomb. He is, for instance, the chief male actor in the movie version of "Candy," although such celebrities as Richard Burton, Marlon Brando and Ringo Starr are also in the film.

Short Film

Well—so here we are at Astin's present position, as maker of the movie called "Prelude," which will register its impact on the public as soon as a proper release situation is arranged. It is a film novella, running about half an hour—because that's how long the story took to be told properly.

And it has already been admired at the San Francisco Film Festival, and at two local theaters here, where it was a surprise one-shot entry, once with "The Graduate."

The story opens with a harried man (Astin) at work amid noise in a shop, trying to sneak-read an Albert Camus book about resistance, rebellion and death. Here, as throughout the entire film, there is hardly any dialogue. It is totally cinematic, weaving in the sounds and innuendoes of modern life.

The man is given a pay envelope with his weekly pittance and drives home in his broken-down jalopy. The home is about on a par with the jalopy. The messy household is full of noisy brats and a wife (Quinn O'Hara) who demands his pay, gives him a little money back refuses to be touched by him and sends him off to the market. All of this is still very early in the film, for the supermarket holds the real story.

Supermarket Escape
Upon arriving there, the man experiences a sort of escape—the refuge of a man who has no other escapes because he won't seize them. Thus, in the supermarket, there is space and color. And there are pretty women to look at, and brochures about far-off places and record albums of Bach. No fine records, intellectual magazines and gourmet foods into his cart—but, wordlessly, she somehow lets him know that nothing can work. They leave separate communications between strangers. And "Prelude" does all this with a sense of poetry and visual exuberance.

After eyeing several women, the man, with his shopping cart, comically and sadly follows a suggestively dressed girl (Karen Jensen) through the rows of shelves—but cannot bring himself to make a pass. Then:

He sees a lovely, mature woman (Victoria Shaw), and hopes it will win awards and bring Astin financing for other projects. He is on his way.

White House Changeover:

Slow Start Due for the 91st Congress

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress, convening Jan. 3, is expected to get off to a slow start while waiting for Richard M. Nixon to take office and submit his legislative program.
One exception could be an attempt to obtain Senate ratification of a treaty designed to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

Democratic leaders also may try to win Senate confirmation of some recent appointments made by President Johnson after the 90th Congress adjourned in October.
At the start of a new Congress, especially when there is a change at the White House, the legislative processes move more slowly. Pending legislation does not carry over and members generally mark time until the new president submits specific proposals although they could introduce bills if they wanted to.

The nuclear nonproliferation treaty, submitted by President Johnson last summer, is in a different category and needs only the consent of the Senate.
Nixon has voiced concern over some of its provisions and has given no clear indication of how he feels about the timing of Senate action.

Just how quickly Nixon will be ready to submit specific proposals after his Jan. 20 inauguration is uncertain, but House and Senate committees will have to conduct hearings on them before they are brought up for floor action.
Since the Democrats will continue to have majorities in both branches—58-42 in the Senate, 243-192 in the House—organization of Congress will be less of a task than if there had been a change in party control.
There is a potential scrap, however, among Senate Republicans over leadership posts and there are rumblings in the House about attempting to unseat Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts.
One of the initial tasks of Congress will be to hold a joint session Jan. 6 to count the Electoral College votes to make official the election of Nixon and his vice presidential running mate, Spiro T. Agnew.
If past practice is followed, Johnson will send his farewell State of the Union message to Congress rather than deliver it in person. Then Nixon, soon after his inauguration, will appear before a joint session to submit a broad outline of his program.
That's the way it happened when Dwight D. Eisenhower took over from Harry S. Truman and John F. Kennedy succeeded Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Divers Battle High Filipino Seas For Bodies After 2 Ships Collide

MANILA (UPI)—A British freighter sliced into a moored Filipino passenger vessel Monday night. Divers today battled heaving seas churned by typhoon Mami to recover bodies from the sunken passenger ship.
The Coast Guard said frogmen had discovered three bodies and denied a Philippines

News Service (PNS) report that six bodies had been taken from the storm-tossed harbor. Spokesmen said only a few passengers of the passenger ship Iruna were missing. It could carry 150.

The 5,338-ton freighter Eastern Moon rammed the 250-ton interisland vessel Monday night as winds and torrents of rain from Mami swept Cebu Harbor 400 miles south of Manila.
The storm blacked out Cebu City and closed the airport.

The Iruna split in two and sank in three minutes.
The death toll would have been much higher but many of the Filipino farmers on the Iruna had gone ashore because storm warnings had delayed the sailing of the vessel.
Francisca Mercado, 42, told PNS service she saw 15 children crushed as the Eastern Moon's prow tore into the Iruna's midsection.
Mrs. Mercado said she felt a jolt, heard the crackling of wood then saw the British ship's prow crush the children.
"Everybody panicked and there were screams for help from both young and old," she said.

Nixon Takes Steps For Middle East Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President-elect Richard M. Nixon pledged during his election campaign he would give high priority to the search for a stable peace in the Middle East.
Since his election, he has taken several steps on four fronts to prepare for what sources close to Nixon described today as likely "new initiatives" in the Mideast after he takes office in January.
Nixon is said to be preparing for early discussions on the Mideast with the Soviet Union, Israel, Arab "moderates," and with the United Arab Republic (U.A.R.).
Nixon is believed considering taking the initiative to restore U.S. relations with the U.A.R., which broke diplomatic ties with the United States during the Arab-Israeli war of 1967.
The importance that Nixon attached to the Mideast was underscored in his message replying to an earlier congratulatory cable received after his election from U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser.
Informed sources said most of the emphasis of Nixon's Mideast policy will be on closer ties with Arab "moderates."
Newsweek Magazine reported that Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol "hopes to visit Washington next month to say goodbye to President Johnson and to size up just how far President-elect Nixon plans to go with his campaign declaration that Israel should have absolute weapons superiority over Arab states for the sake of Mideast peace."

Zsa Zsa Taken From Airline To Court on Hotel Bill Suit

PALME DE MALLORCA, Spain (UPI)—Police today took actress Zsa Zsa Gabor from a Paris-bound airliner and into court to face a suit for payment of a $1,000 hotel bill.
A magistrate took Miss Gabor's passport to prevent her leaving Mallorca, the island where nearly 20 years ago the actress honeymooned with her then husband, actor George Sanders.
The management of the Son Vida Hotel brought suit for the money to cover Miss Gabor's three-day stay at the hotel.
In September, Miss Gabor slapped a bellboy at the Ritz

Teachers, Pencils, Books For 1.1 Million Children

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's 1.1 million public school children return to their studies today after a prolonged and bitter teachers' strike that cost most youngsters seven weeks of classes.

There was a sense of relief Monday after members of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers approved settlement terms. Most city, state and union officials were gratified, parents were pleased and even the pupils were happy.

An 8-year-old boy attending a Greenwich Village elementary school threw his arms around his teacher and gave her a kiss.

It was the third time since the strike began Sept. 9 that the predominantly white, 55,000-member UFT had gone back to the classroom. Two earlier settlements broke down and the walkout was renewed.

Upon word of the UFT ratification, a state trustee officially took over operation of the controversial Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimentally decentralized school district in Brooklyn.

It was the summary dismissal of 79 white teachers from the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill district that led to the strike. A state watchdog committee has now been set up to oversee their return.

The Ocean Hill trustee, Herbert F. Johnson, associate state education commissioner, said he was putting off their return until Wednesday to allow time to work out class assignments.

Represents Strong Hope

Albert Shanker, president of the UFT, said the watchdog panel "represents a strong hope that the schools and their teachers will be safe from harassment and intimidation." He charged the two earlier settlements fell apart because Ocean Hill militants tried to prevent UFT teachers from entering classrooms.

Shanker still faces a charge of contempt under the state's Taylor Law which forbids strikes by public employees. He could receive up to 30 days in jail with the union fined $10,000 per strike day. The court hearing is not yet completed.

The strike, the longest teachers' walkout in the city's history, closed most of the city's 900 public schools for 36 school days and provoked racial and religious animosity between the Negro slums and the largely Jewish UFT.

In commenting on the strike's end, Mayor John V. Lindsay said: "I hope we can begin now to heal the divisions this strike has opened and to turn our attention to the real possibilities for educational greatness this city can achieve."

Ocean Hill is one of three experimental school districts set up to test the concept of community control of local schools as a means of improving the quality of education for youngsters in the slums.

One of Worst Slums
Ocean Hill-Brownsville is one of the city's worst slums. Its population of 125,000 is 71 per cent Negro, 24 per cent Puerto Rican, 4 per cent white and 1 per cent Oriental.

Under the experiment a 19-member local governing board was given control—how much control is a matter of dispute—of the district's eight schools and 8,000 pupils.

Last spring the district sought to transfer out of Ocean Hill a number of teachers it accused of sabotaging the decentralization experiment. Officially the UFT has been for decentralization but not at a rapid pace.

The charges against the teachers were rejected by a trial examiner but the district refused to reinstate the group, which by the start of this fall's term numbered 79.

The teachers struck on the opening day of the term, reported to schools for two days later that week and then struck again. Classes resumed for a second time Sept. 30 but were halted anew on Oct. 14.

France Acts On the Franc

By STEPHENS BROENING

PARIS (AP) — Premier Maurice Couve de Murville said Monday night government spending will be cut and credit tightened as part of the fight to stop the run on the franc.

Couve de Murville spoke on radio and television after another day of heavy speculation on world monetary markets that saw holders of French francs exchanging them for West German marks.

Trade Less Brisk

Though exchange dealers reported trade was less brisk than Friday's hectic session, Frankfurt bankers said another $200 million in speculative capital poured into West Germany Monday.

In an attempt to re-establish confidence in French currency, Couve de Murville said "international solidarity" was not in doubt and "France will have all the support it needs without reservation." But one prominent Paris banker considered the premier's remarks vague and said: "One doesn't resolve a crisis of confidence by words but by deeds."

There also was no announcement of aid for the franc from the meeting of central bankers in Basel, Switzerland.

"If anything concrete had been decided (at Basel) Couve would have said so," said another banker.

Speculators exchanged an estimated $1 billion worth of French francs, British pounds, American dollars and other currencies for West German marks

Two Denials

Bonn and Frankfurt have denied that the mark will be revalued, and the French government insisted that the franc would not be devalued.

The French stock exchange remained firm Monday, reflecting confidence that a franc devaluation would be avoided.

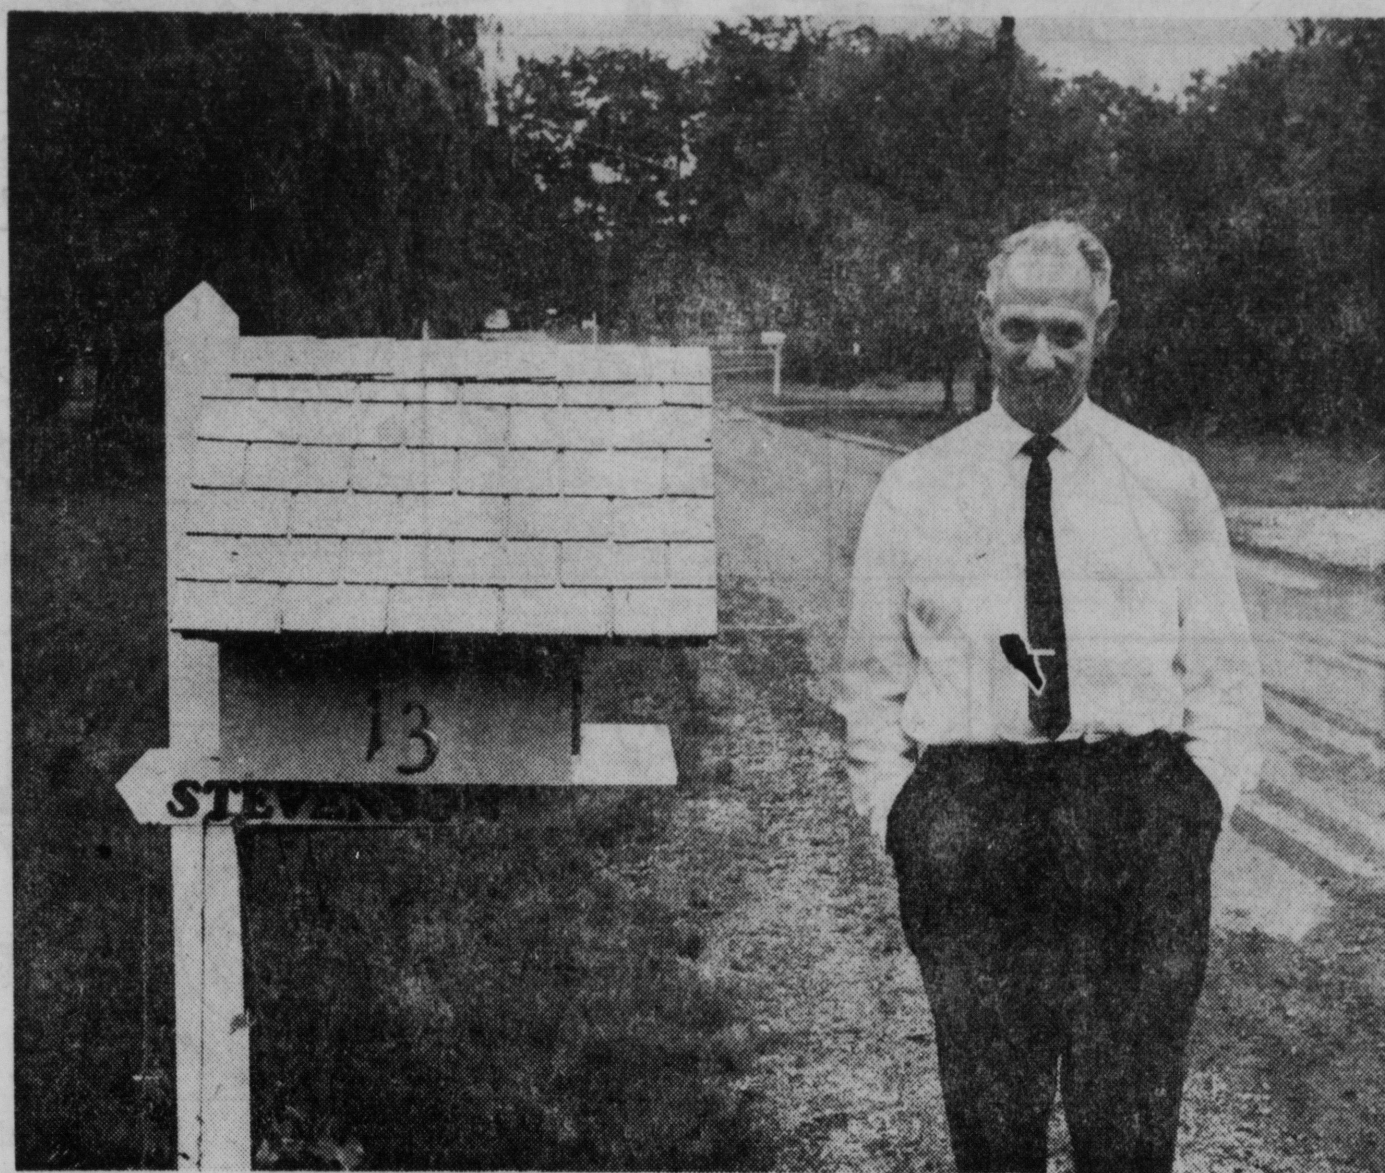

Couve de Murville referred to the situation as an "international monetary crisis" rather than a French crisis.

"The international monetary system is sick," he said. "The malady must be cured by an agreement among all interested countries. Unhappily this has not been done. However, this doesn't prevent the existence of international solidarity."
